

Pourfection Creation

Tuesday, March 10th, 2026
12:00-1:30pm

Join us for a hands-on creative experience where art meets imagination. In this session, participants will design and create custom epoxy resin pieces using silicone molds, pigments, decorative elements, and personal touches. This relaxed, supportive environment encourages self-expression, creativity, and connection with others while learning a unique and engaging craft. No prior experience is required. All supplies will be provided, along with step-by-step guidance to help you create a one-of-a-kind piece to take home. This activity is perfect for anyone looking to explore a new hobby, practice mindfulness through art, or connect with others in a positive and encouraging space.

What to Expect

- Introduction to epoxy resin safety and techniques
- Mold pouring and color blending
- Creative design with embellishments
- A welcoming, judgment-free atmosphere
- Time for reflection and connection. Come create something meaningful, build community, and enjoy the process—one pour at a time
