

(book back cover)

Expressive Tree People is a collection of photographs, of trees that look as if they have faces. Each face has its own unique expression. These trees were found in the northern most part of California. If you let your imagination run wild, I would think that you may even come up with other things for each picture to say. This is a fun book and the pictures in it were collected for that purpose. I hope that you enjoy this collection as much as I did gathering all of their pictures.

Expressive Tree People

By

Lauresa Tomlinson

Big foot says –

“Hi”

He almost got brave enough to come out of hiding.

Can you see him?

I tilted the pic a little to make it easier.

Many of these have their own personality and so, I will leave it up to them to add to the impression I got.

“Oh Hello,
I didn’t see you there for a moment.”
“Me either. You’re sneaky.”

“I’m playing hide ‘n seek with a few friends.

Can you still see me?

You've heard of the old man in the moon?

I'm the old man in the tree.

he he ha ha

