Our Services

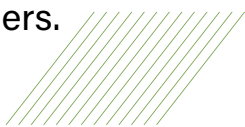

Natural

Natural provides superior (i) environmental and social due diligence, (ii) long-term monitoring, and (iii) capacity-building services for internationally funded category A and B+ projects.

While Natural specializes in agrifood, forestry, renewable energy, mining, infrastructure, and sustainable financing projects, our multi-sectorial expertise allows us to easily adapt to other sectors as we bring to the board a comprehensive understanding of key environmental, social, and biodiversity frameworks and global E&S standards, such as the IFC Performance Standards, OECD Common Approaches, Equator Principles, and European Development Finance Institutions' (EDFIs) practices.

As per our vast network of professional connections, our teams are typically comprised of seasoned international specialists in E&S management systems (ESMS), E&S impact assessment (ESIA), biodiversity critical habitat and ecosystem services assessments, cumulative impact assessment (CIA), stakeholder engagement plans (SEP), resettlement action plans (RAP), livelihood restoration plans (LRP), E&S action plans (ESAP), among others.

Why Us?

Natural

No-Nonsense Approach: Natural takes a very practical approach to assignments. We are clear from the start what we are expected to do, plan thoroughly, and accomplish what we set out to do.

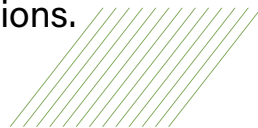

Flexibility: Natural is not only known for its diligent planning but also for its willingness to accommodate changes in scheduling and other logistics at all project stages while still delivering impressive results even when working in high-performance environments with short deadlines and shifting priorities.

The Extra Mile: Natural is equally known for 'going the extra mile,' not only for the Lenders but also for Project Proponents. We are willing to conduct negotiations and discussions even when they extend beyond the usual report writing requirements. We understand what it takes to get the job done.

Ethics and Transparency: Natural experts are known for our neutrality and unbiased approach. While Project Proponents do not always grasp the niceties of international benchmarks and standards, Lenders are typically strict with their E&S requirements. Natural understands that we need to play a finely nuanced 'performance.' Natural can convincingly bring both sides to the drawing board and we help navigate typically uncharted waters to satisfy all parties' expectations.

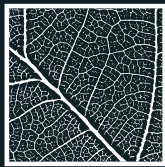

Our Team

Each project is unique and requires tailored consulting teams able to deliver case-specific solutions!

To address this need, Natural operates under a 'collaborative consulting' approach that leverages our network connections to bring to each project a curated roster of E&S seasoned practitioners.

Natural experts have decades of combined international experience, multilanguage skills, and adequate in-country and/or regional expertise. They are senior specialists of multinational consulting firms, proprietors of international E&S consulting shops, or seasoned independent E&S private consulting practitioners.
