OUR STORY

Marlu Health - Who we are.

Our Beginnings

Marlu Health is a proudly Aboriginal owned and operated occupational health clinic based in Osborne Park, WA - a full occupational health facility delivering quality pre-employment medicals, health and wellness management and injury prevention programmes.

Our highly experienced and qualified team, with 30+ years of collective experience, are excited and ready in our beautifully renovated facilities.

Our Team

At Marlu Health, we embrace a diverse culture within our working team, bringing together passionate professionals from clinical, corporate and community backgrounds.

Our team is driven by a shared commitment to delivering outstanding occupational health outcomes for every client and every worker we serve.

Our Servicing

We recognise that fast and reliable service is essential for pre-employment medicals. Our clients rely on prompt, accurate results - we place a strong focus on efficient processes and quick turnaround times.

We utilise a dedicated medical software platform providing 24/7 access with real-time appointment availability across all clinic locations, functioning as a secure results portal with all data stored within Australia.

Our Commitment

We are committed to supporting efficient workforce mobilisation and timely return-to-work outcomes through responsive, practical occupational health services.

Leveraging strong industry experience and a high-quality clinical team, we deliver reliable assessments and injury management solutions that minimise downtime and keep your workforce moving.

Engaging Marlu Health provides a meaningful opportunity to support Indigenous-led business and contribute to Indigenous procurement objectives, Reconciliation Action Plan commitments, and Environmental, Social and Governance priorities.

Our Logo and Identity

The Marlu Health logo symbolises the co-laboration of both the Aboriginal and Aotearoa (Maori) flags - a symbol of unity of cultures, empathy for our cultures' history and resilience to always move forward with strength.

The bold yellow form speaks to our roots in Western Australia - the yellow of the Aboriginal flag, our birthplace. The dynamic red curves represent forward momentum and the diverse people we proudly serve.

The Marlu mantra is embodied in the spirit of the big red kangaroo - an animal that only moves forward, never backwards. Like the big red kangaroo we represent agility, strength and resilience. This drives everything we do, every day.

AMSA STCW MEDICAL CAPABILITY

Supporting maritime workforce in Western Australia

Regulated assessment

AMSA-approved Medical Inspectors assess seafarers against Marine Order 76 and the international STCW Convention. Form 232 records findings. Form 303 documents the fitness determination.

Mobilisation support

Defined service commitments help employers plan crew movements. Applicants receive their certificate on the day, or clear advice if the inspector requires further information.

Employer coordination

One coordinator can request medicals for multiple seafarers. Company bookings include status visibility, expedited queries and direct access to the Senior Medical Examiner.

Indigenous participation

Marlu Health is Aboriginal owned and operated, Supply Nation registered, Nyamal & Noongar endorsed business. The service combines workforce medical capability with direct Indigenous procurement value.
