by Hannie Truijens

A Frog in the Teapot

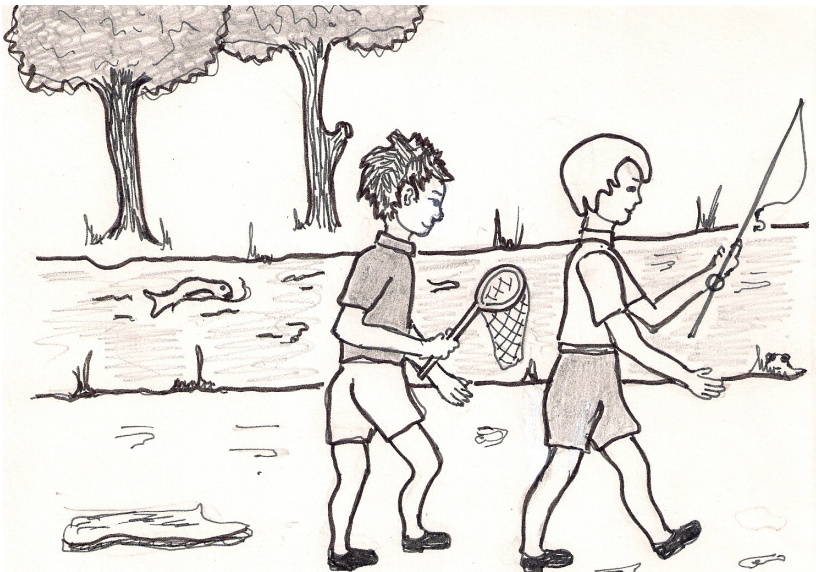

Ken and Nam go to play.

Ken wants to fish.

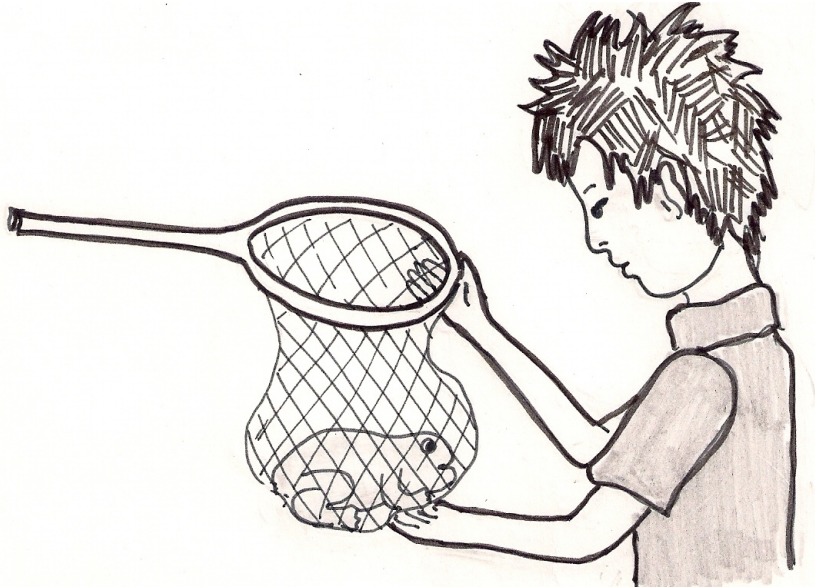

He has a line and a net.

Ken will fish with the line and

Nam will fish with the net.

Nam gets a frog with the net.
He wants to take it home.
He tells Ken to keep the frog in the net.
He runs home to get a jar.

Nam cannot find a good jar.
This jar is too small.
This jar has no lid.
Nam takes the big teapot.

Nam puts the frog in the teapot
Ken has a fish on his line.
He takes the net for the fish.
It is not a fish

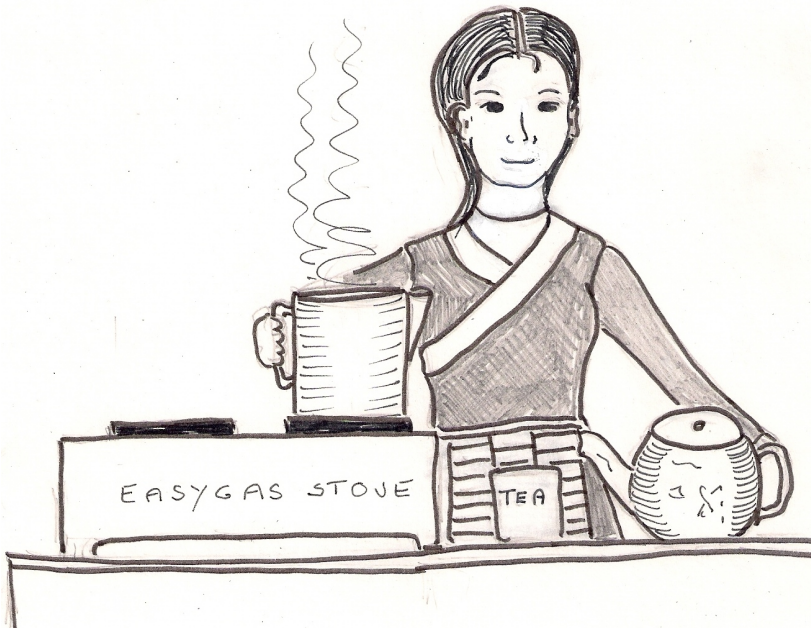

Ken takes his line and net home.
Nam takes his frog home.
He hides the teapot and goes to look for a box.

Mom comes in to make tea.
She cannot find the big teapot.
Nam, where is my pot?
Where did you hide it?

Mom finds the big teapot.
She puts on the water and takes out the box of tea.
She puts away the jars.
The water is hot.

Mom takes the lid off the teapot.

She puts in the tea.

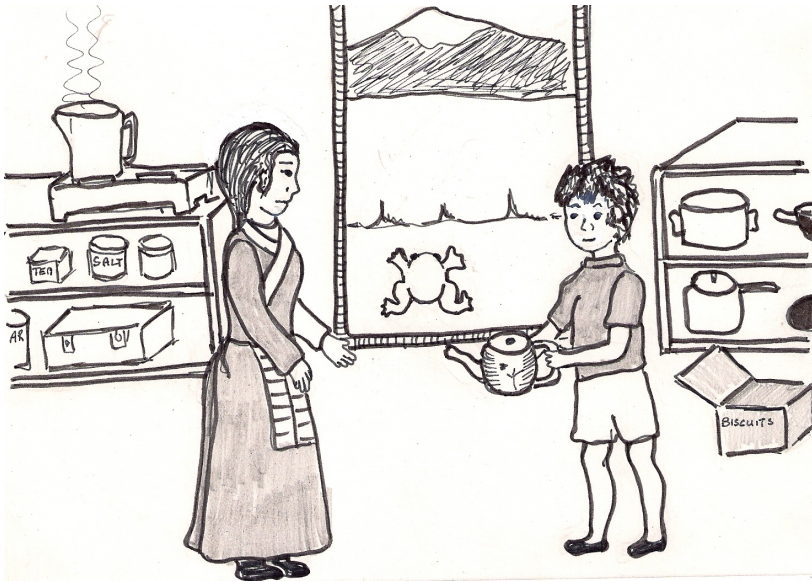

Nam comes in with a box.

Too late!

The frog hops out of the pot.

The frog is happy to go.
Mom is not happy at all.
I can wash the teapot, Mom.
No Nam, I do not want tea from this pot.

Mom has a good teapot.
She takes it out and makes the tea.
Nam can have the old teapot for his frog.

Nam runs out to look for his frog.

He cannot find it.

Where did the frog hide?
