Attendees provided input through roundtable discussions and a visioning wall. The City has engaged independent facilitator Dr. David Brain to guide this visioning effort. The April workshop will begin with a brief introduction from Dr. Brain, followed by a summary of responses from the February workshop and additional details regarding ongoing and future projects.

Discussion topics are expected to include:

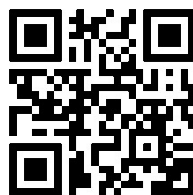

- Long-term strategies to protect natural assets, strengthen infrastructure, including discussion of potential future undergrounding of utilities, and identify opportunities to revitalize the St. Armands commercial area
- High-level stormwater, flood resilience, and drainage considerations, including coordination with Sarasota County
- Flood elevations and topographic considerations

This workshop is open to the public and intended for:

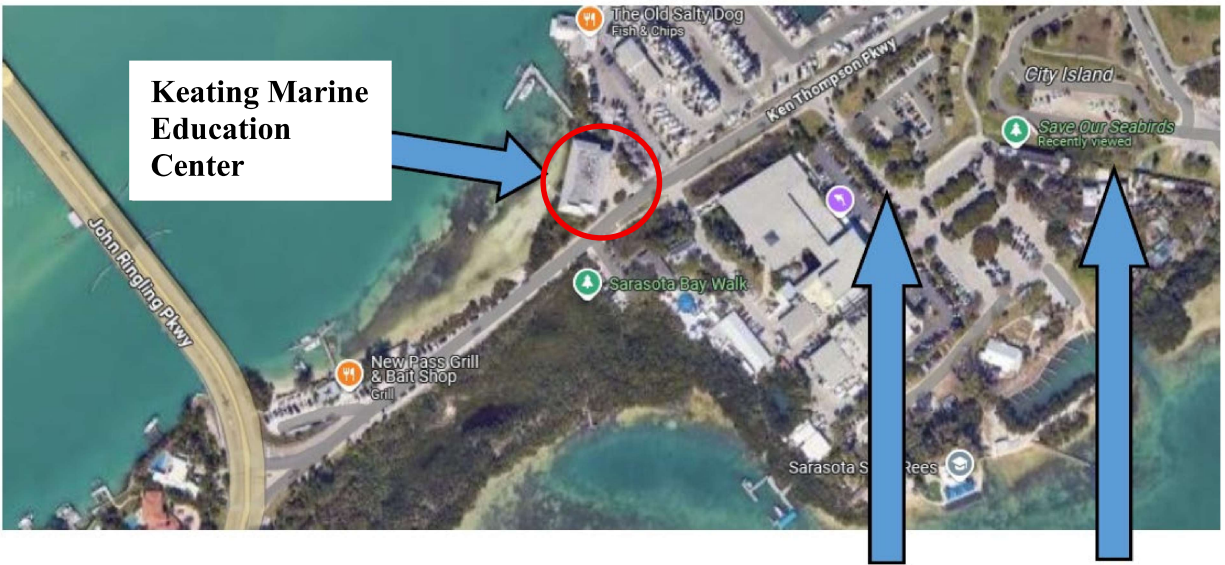

- St. Armands residents
- St. Armands merchants
- St. Armands commercial property owners
- Community stakeholders
- Anyone interested in the future resilience and vitality of St. Armands
