

Paper: The Incidence of Harm

Date: 19 Mar. 2026

By: D. R. Shearer

Topic: Maybe you have noticed an elevation of the incidence of harm coming to many people around you(!)

Maybe you see that harm is coming also to many individuals who are well under 50 years of age(!)

Maybe you also see news reports that state that this elevated level of harm is somehow justified.

This level of harm is justified. But not how your are being told.

This paper explains how this harm is being justified on a true and deeper level. But it takes courage, understanding and perseverance to take this information in. Are you ready for that?

Introduction

From my observation & experience:

“Western” society has been in a steady state of elevated convenience since the 1960s. This is a very nice thing to have especially when one considers that many people on the Earth do not even have the basic necessities.

From another perspective, (western) society has been in a steady state of decaying quality of life since the 1960s. This particular phenomenon has possibly gone unnoticed by many until very recently. The events that are becoming obvious right now is the pinnacle of this phenomenon.

There is a distinct set of reasons why this is so. If you wish to consider these things then please read on past this next paragraph.

For those who do not wish to find a higher level of understanding I have this to provide: Many, many individuals have lived a life with integrity, moral principles & high ethical standards. They may have also lived without the lower calibrations of fear and/or guilt. If this you then you need not look at the reasons why your friends are enduring great pain and that you are not. You just need to continue to be the exemplary citizen that you know you are and listen to any signals that come your way - because they are nudgings that may require a certain amount of participation and/or be there for your own safety. Everything will be OK.

The Seemingly Unfair Distribution of Harm

If you recognize an elevated level of harm coming down upon your brothers & sisters, no matter what age they happen to be, and wish for an answer that you won't find on mainstream media, then please read on.

The more developed ("first world" or "western") societies on this planet are driven by the dollar. While this is obvious, the key to understanding is also contained in this obvious statement. Here is where courage and ethics are required: To face the truth. The plain truth is that greater amounts of money can be made when an individual takes a career that is generally comprised of a false foundation. It would be better if this claim were not true. But it is and it explains the varying levels of pain before everyone at this time.

The Drivers: Fear & Guilt

For a business enterprise utilizing falsehood - for it to be accepted, at all costs, there must be a few different components present:

- deception,
- induced fear and/or
- induced guilt.

Deception is necessary to sell a business model with a false foundation, to the public. The fact that public trust and mass participation are determining factors in this analysis is merely part of the deception campaign. A lot of ground is beneficially covered when one removes trust from a business enterprise that proves itself unworthy* and places it where it needs to be instead¹.

Induced fear and/or guilt are the tell-tale signs that deception is being utilized. The fear and guilt that is referred to here are the ones where the campaign narrative producing these lower calibrations, are based on things that only occur in the mind, on television screens and in the newspapers. In other words, if you can't witness these items with your own senses, then the fear and guilt produced by them, is very likely based upon fiction. While this maybe unpopular it is nevertheless the solution... and it is both obvious & empowering.

Harm "Being Justified"

Many folks have heard the term "karma". It is the not quite complete understanding that can be applied to life. And if you really analyze what is before you at this time, this incomplete understanding of life reality fits the picture perfectly, where many folks are suffering and many others not so much.

Any shortcomings represented by the karma cycle is fully explained by a higher understanding of life¹.

*The Summary

In ~1977 my body, my logic and my intuitive impulse told me that anti-biotics were exactly as the label states – “against biology”. That was my direct experience and as it turns out, our bodies ARE biologic structures. Poisoning them, even inadvertently, is part of the false foundation that was referred to here earlier.

This is the start of recognizing how it is that many folks are experiencing devastating results at this time and others not so much.

And when this unworthiness was indicated to me ~50 years ago, I removed my participation from this industry at that time.

The Solution

1. God = Love = Truth = Power

There is no fear or guilt involved with this solution.

To suggest otherwise is merely more deception.

The truths as revealed in this paper will one day soon become evident to all.

This much is guaranteed at this time on planet Earth.

As we all create the new Earth together.

Truth is freedom.
