

Paper: Our Most Powerful “Weapon” - LOVE

Date: 29 April 2020 (rev. 16 Jun 2024)

By: D. R. Shearer

Topic: The details & fine points of what is occurring on this planet now, are not something that must be understood by the mass population. The 2 things that must be understood by the mass population are: 1) that they have been led by falsehood (to a large degree), and 2) that the false & damaging, low vibration energies of fear, panic, uncertainty & chaos, are the result of those falsehoods, and that they cannot co-exist with LOVE, in anyone’s body/mind/soul.

Preamble

The currently high levels of fear and uncertainty on the planet form a collective energy of very low vibration. This was/is initiated, stimulated & fostered by ulterior motive programming and facilitated/perpetuated by main stream/social media and governments. The proof of this statement exists in a multitude of locations, not the least of which is the [former] “Georgia Guidestones” comprised of 120 tons of etched granite!

From a logic-only perspective, this fear model is totally false based upon:

- 1) The emerging Truth as represented within the resources in the room/location where this Paper was obtained (including the lack of evidence for the SC2 “virus” existing), and
- 2) The empty hospitals, and the fake registering on death certificates, occurring everywhere, in cooperation with the official CDC document and the numbers contained therein.

From a faith-logic perspective, the energy levels and the current paradigm, on the planet now are manipulative, baseless & damaging, so long as the population is fooled into believing that there is any truth or backing behind the paradigm itself. What is occurring is a ‘natural occurrence’ on the planet, when one understands the Truth. i.e. The Universe [God] would not impose this pain on humanity, but humanity would impose it on itself!... and it is!

Important vs. Not Important

It is Not Important...

- that you understand the source of the misinformation & programming that is prevalent now and has been occurring for decades, if not centuries.
- that you understand how long this 'control' has been in the works, on this planet.
- that you understand the details and even the results of the misinformation, that has been a part of life for several decades, if not centuries now.
- that you understand that misinformation has caused perspectives within you that, to a large degree, are the current cause of any suffering you may experience.
- that you understand the need, or tactics required to let go of long held notions of strong & long held beliefs which are no longer serving you.

It is Important...

- that you understand how the power of free will is both the cause of all suffering and at the same time, will be the solution to the present 'situation'.
- that you understand the Power of Free Will and the ultimacy, that this gift carries.
- that you understand that you have always had the choice to accept low vibration or high vibration energies, to be the dominant presence, within your being.
- that you understand that low vibration energies separate & dis-empower you from who you really are and that your free will choice can refuse these energies.
- that you vitally understand that the conscious and determined effort on your part, to release these low vibration energies, is necessary on the planet today, if we are to change the paradigm to one of FREEDOM for all. [It's easier than you may realize!]

The EASY way or the HARD way?

I have never been one to accept things at face value. This is probably because I saw a certain level of falseness, in a lot of the goings on, that were around me, for most of my life. For example, like many North Americans, I grew up in a traditional protestant household setting. The religious dogma that I witnessed did not seem to be the highest level of truth – and that set me on my seeking path. I must add that those who are able to apply orthodox/fundamentalist religion to its highest potential, have been able to make a choice that not only will benefit themselves and all humanity, but were able to do something, which I could not. My arrival at a higher level of Truth (of the Universe/God) was from a different path, which is another story, for another time.

The point is, is that there are two different types of people:

- 1) Those that need to be told 'nothing but the truth' and will accept nothing other than the highest level of Truth (with discernment), and
- 2) Those that are content to roll along with relatively little concern for how and why their present circumstances, that they currently experience, has been defined for them.

There is no wrong or right here, as long as everyone is happy with their personal results & their current circumstance, right? The test is simply, "Do I have anger, pain, frustration, guilt, urgency, or any other sub-200* positionality in my life?"

The current prevailing (palpable) evidence of our current condition, seems to be totally immersed in a sea of total inconsistency, even if you tend toward being a mainstream media observer [not recommended]. As noted, I need to get to the bottom of things, or I am not satisfied. The results of my findings, may not be important for some people. However, it seems as though that there is one unavoidable item that may be worth looking into at this time:

The worldwide, obvious emergence of Love & Unity that is now occurring amongst millions, is curious & encouraging, from a global perspective, in contrast to some unusual (weak and misguided) opposition to such an occurrence.

If a person can at least understand this enough to see that there is some over lording source responsible for such unusual opposition. This brings us to a place where we can begin to grasp the solution. It may also be important to see that the prevalent condition of fear/panic is ironically & exactly, a catalyst to motivate the population to choose a different path, and join in with the amazing surfacing of Love & Peace. The average 60's hippie would/should be proud!

The Evolution of Consciousness & The Lessons of the Past

Life on planet Earth has been one governed by division and war. Everywhere you look, you see the results of a "duality" existence. Not that everything is doom & gloom though. For those of us in some of the better 1st world countries like Canada or the U.S., it has been easier to turn a blind eye to nasty circumstances. But the duality nature of our lives, which kind of resides, just out of conscious awareness now, has been adopted as the accepted norm. While this may seem as being benign in nature, it affects our conscious behaviour and attitudes in greater ways than we may recognize.

When we acknowledge that deception, division & violence are the tools that comprise the main armament of the aforementioned 'opposition', the solution becomes nearer. The positive thing that emerges from a history of division & violence is that it stands as the best example of what not to do. This realization becomes stronger when it is understood that it was all by the power of imposed propaganda and repetitive content.

Conclusion

A few things should be clear:

- 1) The presence of an alternative agenda which is not in our best interest.
- 2) A history of division & violence which has been largely programmed into humanity.
- 3) Low vibration energies present within us, are our choice to retain or give up.
- 4) Other long held belief patterns are not currently serving us, including misplaced faith & trust.

As a species on the planet, collective consciousness is moving to an area where we understand that a history of violence, is something that cannot & will not be repeated. And when collective humanity recognizes that our history of violence, including wars, has basically been programmed behaviour, we then have the understanding to look to higher levels of consciousness to 'sort things out'.

Dr. David Hawkins points out that collective consciousness calibrates, for the first time in human history (1987), above the median 200 mark*. This absolutely confirms the progression of humanity into states of consciousness whereby history will not be repeated.

This fact, when combined with the understanding that the alternative agenda does not possess the true Power of Love, or they would not be acting in the way that they are, seals the advantage to the populace, in moving dear planet Earth to what is known as being, "Settled in "Light & life" (aka "The Great Awakening").

It is by this means, that the awakened masses will understand that the Power of Love far outweighs the combined military force on the planet - by this we then have a certain & formidable energy to work with. Collectively, we cannot be stopped!

Mahatma Gandhi, unconditionally proved this, we need only to observe & learn. His efforts become valuable for us during these times:

“An eye for eye only ends up making the whole world blind.”
