INT. HOWARD'S ROOM - MORNING

HOWARD looks out window to see a HOMELESS PERSON reaching in a trashcan as some BOYS mess with him and take some of his possessions. The homeless person reaches out for help but no one is around. Howard drops his head and turns from window.

HOWARD

(to self)

If I could—that man, I would, but...

He walks to dresser, picks up a DVD and pops it in DVD player. He presses "play" and plops back on bed as he watches TV screen. On the tape, LILLY and OTHERS play a board game at a picnic in a park. He captures Lilly from the front view across the table. She looks up to camera.

LILLY (ON VIDEO)

Yes, I'm going to win this one.
It's been a long time coming.

The other two PEOPLE playing game with her look up, as in "yeh, right." He moves behind Lilly with the camera to see her cards, etc. We hear Howard's voice.

HOWARD (V.O. ON VIDEO)

I don't know guys. She has a mean deck here.

Lilly turns around.

LILLY (ON VIDEO)

You're not helping me, Howard.
And hide that tape until after the game.

He stops the DVD player, drops his head and then mopes out the room again.
