INT. ROSE'S ELEMENTARY CLASSROOM - MORNING

ROSE leans over a STUDENT'S desk as she points to some marks on the student's paper. The other students quietly work at their desks.

STEW walks in with a large bouquet of roses. One student in the room, JERRY STUDIBAKER, looks up at Stew, starts to cry and runs out.

A STUDENT gets up to go after him, but Rose stops him as she raises her hand. The student sits back down. Stew places roses in her hand. She reluctantly takes the roses as she looks at the door.

STEW

Roses for the lovely Rose. Let me take you out to a night on the town...

She quietly speaks to Stew where the students cannot hear.

ROSE

I remember where I heard your name before. You made Jerry's family-who just ran out...homeless.

Stew shrugs, unaware. She hands the roses back to him and speaks very loud.

ROSE

I will never go out with you because you're not worthy.

The students fall out loud laughing at her response. Stew stands surprised as the BELL RINGS.
