

INT. OFFICE - DAY

Gene reacts to a comment on the computer screen.

GENE

What do you take me for?

Gene arises and places hand on some books.

GENE (CONT'D)

You think I'm that classmate who watched you while you cooked?

Gene points finger at the screen.

GENE (CONT'D)

You know, I did learn a few things from you. Not to leave the water boiling when I answer the phone.
Those veggies...never the same.

Gene still looks at the screen while heading to a stack of papers and lifts the top one, or two sheets.

No. You take me for that classmate who looked on your test.

Gene harshly places paper down and points to the screen.

GENE (CONT'D)

If I copied from you they would've put me back two years. No!

Gene leans face in the palms of both hands.

GENE (CONT'D)

Now, yes. You think that I was the one who bopped your head when you went to sleep during the meeting?

Gene smirks.

GENE (CONT'D)

No. It was your ex-girl who saw a picture of you with another girl!
