

The Cross of Calvary

--Irma B. Williams

Beneath the Cross of Calvary there is a crimson flow,
It is the blood of Jesus Christ that cleanses whiter than snow:
Whiter than snow; whiter than snow; ev'ry sin has to go.
It is the blood of Jesus Christ that cleanses whiter than snow.

And from the Cross of Calvary this mighty flow began,
A fountain giving forth New Life from Jesus, Saviour of man;
Saviour of man, Saviour of man, reaching me in its span,
A fountain giving forth New Life from Jesus, Saviour of man.

Oh, yes, the Cross of Calvary still stands upon the hill;
And from the Cross flows inner peace for whosoever will;
Who-so-e'er will, who-so-e'er will, wondrous grace flowing still,
And from the Cross flows inner peace for whosoever will.

Copyright 1975 by Tennessee Music and Printing Co. in "Remembering Calvary"