WARNING: YOU MAY BE BEING SCAMMED!
 If you are on the phone with someone you DON'T know AND TRUST who has asked you to install RustDesk, do not install and hang up immediately.
 They are likely a scammer trying to steal your money or other private information.

NOTE: RustDesk displays the warning in the screen shot during download and installation. Please read it carefully — it applies to everyone, including me. Only allow access to someone you know and trust. If you are not comfortable installing RustDesk, that is completely okay. We can schedule an in-person visit instead at standard on-site rates.

- Once installed you should see a screen similar to this one. This is where you will need to be. If you are sure you have verified me, I will need the ID first, then the password when I prompt for it.

- You may be prompted to confirm me accessing your system, do so.
- You will be required to stay at your computer to monitor but I understand life happens and sometimes you may need to step away for a few minutes. That is fine but more than roughly 5 minutes I will not feel comfortable continuing work but I will let you know that I will inform you if that is to occur.
