Creating Portraits
that Connect the Feminine
in Art & Nature

Hello,

I'm Jenifer Joy and I am a creative artist, photographer, model, performer, musician, composer, author and professional unicorn.

I once went to Kung Fu camp and my body turned from thin and scrappy to a lovely, toned, refined, with lines, form that to me, looks like art, similar to Classical Greek and Roman Art. This, in addition with my love for being natural outside combined with the pandemic inspired nude in nature self portraits taken in collaboration with a friend behind the camera. I call her the Idea Pixie and she's got lots of them :D

I am a creative being with a creative mind. Trained musically, I love photography because of it's composition, structure and design. Creating a shoot feels to me like a performance, one where I get to be "her" - wild and free, true at heart, in pure joy and in dance with natures breeze.
