Old Christmas Lights? Recycle Them Locally!

Do you have tangled, broken, or burned-out strands of Christmas lights? The North Central Nebraska RC&D has a bright idea! Instead of tossing those strings of lights in the trash, bring them in for recycling. Recycling old holiday lights gives the materials a chance to be reused and keeps them out of landfills. Both traditional and LED Christmas light strands are accepted.

Lights can be dropped off at the following locations until January 15th:

- Ainsworth: Krotter's
- Atkinson: R.F. Goeke Variety
- Bassett: Krotter's
- Bristow: Post Office
- O'Neill: Bomgaars and Niobrara Valley Electric
- Spencer: 63 County Store
- Springview: Village Office
- Stuart: Recycling Center
- Valentine: HuskerLand Hardware

All lights will be recycled through Star City Recycling in Lincoln, Nebraska, where the materials will be separated and processed for reuse. With help from local businesses, the RC&D is making it easier to recycle those old lights. One strand at a time, we can reduce waste and make our communities a little greener this Christmas season.
