

THOUGHTS FOR THE WEEK OF
APRIL 25 – MAY 1

“If you have no will to change it, you have no will to criticize it.”

Anonymous

“It is better to light a candle, than to curse the darkness.”

Eleanor Roosevelt

“Both tears and sweat are salty, but they render a different result. Tears will get you sympathy; sweat will get you change.”

Jesse Jackson

Here are three challenges that test the mettle of persons of the Christian faith. Being a “real” member of the faith community is hardly a simple task - - on the contrary - - it is one of the most challenging aspects of being truly and fully human. Try it and see for yourself. I have, and have frequently come up short.
