SEDI, Inc Press Release Tuesday, May 27, 2025

SEDI-CASE is pleased to announce the appointment of Jamelah Morton, Ph.D, APRN, a healthcare and medical industry leadership team Advisory Board Member expert. Dr. Morton has over 22 years of experience with Baptist Health, and is a thought leader bringing a wealth of knowledge, expertise and proficiency in healthcare industry both the US Virgin Islands (USVI), and the Caribbean markets. As a Virgin Islander, Jamelah represents a new era of professionals and a solution to help reverse the USVI Diaspora brain drain in the advent of innovative technology, and improve the healthcare system.

Jamelah Morton, Ph.D., APRN, is a certified nurse practitioner at Baptist Health Miami Neuroscience Institute. She cares for patients with acute neurological and neurosurgical conditions and is certified in acute care, critical care, neuroscience and strokes. Before transitioning to her current role as a nurse practitioner for Miami Neuroscience Institute, Jamelah worked at Baptist Health as a neuroscience bedside nurse and an ICU nurse, specializing in cardiac and neurological conditions. Prior to joining Baptist Health, she earned her bachelor's degree, master's degree and Ph.D. in nursing from Barry University. Dedicated to enhancing the education of nurses at all levels, Jamelah is currently an adjunct faculty member at Barry University. She previously worked as an assistant professor and faculty member for Barry University and served on several dissertation committees for DNP and Ph.D. students.

Experienced in treating a range of neurological conditions, Jamelah collaborates with her team to provide the best possible care for her patients. In addition to her clinical work, she assists with clinical trials and conducts research on multicultural health. Jamelah has presented her studies on the cultural influences of Afro-Caribbean health nationally and internationally.

As an Advisory Board Member, Dr. Morton will serve as a team leader in the development and advancement of SEDI-CASE Health and Medical Efficacy Chain (EFCY) Research and Development (R&D) Project and Program Initiatives. Jamelah, as a Virgin Islander will be a valuable addition to the team to help improve the US Virgin Islands Healthcare System, and to underserved communities throughout the US and the Caribbean Region.
