

Cocktail of Murder 8 Guests (8 female)

A gentle breeze is blowing and the steel band plays on the beach. Welcome to Hawaii and the Los Palmas beach Resort – renowned for fun and frolics in the sun. Tonight is no exception and as the girls prepare for another night of frivolity (and of course rum) Mai Tai, the bar tender comes rushing onto the beach. Juan Night-Stand, the sexy Latino stud and manager of the hotel, has been found dead in the sand dunes.

Who would want to kill him and more importantly why? Was it an over amorous lover, was it a jealous husband or is it something more sinister – it's up to you to find out.

The Guest List

Coco Oco

Two fat ladies 88 – is the war cry of Coco. She loves bingo and often drops call rhymes into conversation. The mother figure of the group she is a sympathetic ear and shoulder to cry on for all the girls. She has planned the holiday, runs the entire event with military precision and woe betide anyone who crosses her! Tonight she wears a white trouser suit, silver heeled shoes and her white hair is pushed back from her face and held with a delicate pink flower.

Blu Lagoon

Flamboyant and glamorous - just as her name suggests. A party just isn't a proper party without her presence. She is on her fourth marriage to her toy boy who is 10 years her junior. He is a golf pro and they met when he was giving her private lessons – was it to improve her golf swing or something else though? As always she wears her favourite colour – blue of course – and arrives in a short blue dress, an outrageous blue hat is perched on her blonde hair and her cigarettes and holder are never far from her side.

Honey Moon

Lady Luck is always on her side – especially when she is at the roulette wheel. She has an uncanny knack of always coming out on top – and usually hundreds of dollars up too! She always over dresses for every occasion and tonight is no exception. She wears a long gold dress, long gold gloves and her long platinum blonde hair is worn loose. A deck of cards and a pile of roulette chips are always in her hand.

Cherry Blossom

Wholesome and pure just like her name suggests. Cherry loves everything that is healthy and often tells the girls the calorie content of every single meal and cocktail. An aloof and private woman – but after one glass of champs she becomes the life and soul of the party. She arrives tonight wearing a white figure hugging dress and her long blonde hair is worn straight. Ruby red lips and her diamante sunglasses perched on her head complete her sophisticated look.

Ritzy Fizz

Disco dancing diva and high school prom queen. She is about to go to college to study and this is her last holiday with her close friends – and she intends to enjoy it to the full. A bright and bubbly girl, everyone who meets her just adores her and her sunny disposition. Bright and beautiful yet modest too she would love to make a difference to the world. She arrives tonight wearing a short black dress, a huge diamond cross at her neck and her long curls are worn loose.

Ruby Rita

Close friend and confidant to Ritzy and when they get together they always cause mischief and mayhem. Addicted to keeping in contact with the world her BlackBerry and mobile phone are never far away. In fact she holds the school record for writing the fastest text message. Wearing her favourite colour- red of course - she arrives tonight wearing hipster trousers, a red cropped top showing off her toned midriff and her blonde hair is worn wild and wanton.

Opal Martini

Opal is the reason that the girls are all on holiday together – she is the birthday girl! She is a kind woman who loves everyone and everything – especially if they are fluffy and have four legs. She is very conservative in her mannerisms and dress – but she secretly yearns to be wild and free! Tonight she arrives wearing chinos, an open neck shirt, her family pearls are at her neck and her hair is worn in a short neat bob. Her signature flip flops are worn on her feet – not quite matching her conservative outfit!

Ginger Snap

Joker of the group and she is famous for her hyena style laugh – in fact you often hear her before you see her! She is still single and is searching for Mr Right – or indeed Mr Right now! Desperate to be a bride she fears that her time is running out and she will be single for the rest of her life. She wears a beautiful coloured sarong, a black top and her hair is wrapped in a turban – a true Caribbean princess
