HEART ATTACK (In Women)

Not all heart attacks look alike. Women experience heart attacks differently than men. If you find yourself suddenly drenched in sweat for no apparent reason, don't assume it is a hot flash. Sweating is one of the five symptoms of a female heart attack. Symptoms are often quiet and subtle and are mistaken for something less serious. For that reason, women are slower to seek medical attention. That delay can mean the difference between life and death.

Five warning signs:

- Sweating: Suddenly drenched in sweat for no apparent reason and a pale ashen face.
- Nausea or dizziness: Women often vomit or feel like they are going to pass out.
- Breathlessness: Over half of women report panting or not being able to carry on a conversation.
- Sleeplessness: Nearly half of women have trouble sleeping in the month before a heart attack.
- Anxiety: Many women experience a sense of doom or fear before a heart attack. That's your body alerting you to pay attention. Trust those instincts!

Remember that heart attacks kill!
Pay attention to early warning signs and insist on the proper medical care.

Mass Intentions

If you wish to have a Mass for a loved one, the stipend is $10. You can mail it to the Parish Office or put it in the collection basket. Please include the Intentions name, along with your name and contact information.

Thank You!
