NOW OFFERING 1-DAY ENRICHMENT AT OUR FARM SCHOOL CAMPUS IN HILLSBORO

Art & Culture: The American West

THURSDAY, 10/08/26

Charles Marion Russell (born in St. Louis, Missouri, in 1864) is one of the premier artists of the historic American West, creating more than 2,000 paintings of cowboys, Indians, and landscapes set in the Western United States. This study will highlight how his firsthand experience outdoors as a ranch hand and with Native Americans lends important authenticity to his distinctive realism, which contributed to his strong reputation for careful accuracy.

Wilderness Survival Skills

WEDNESDAY, 11/04/26

Students will practice using natural resources for survival, comfort, and sustenance in the wilderness, such as building a shelter, finding & purifying water, navigating 120+ acres, and identifying edible/medicinal plants as well as plants used to make their own rope.

En Plein Air Artist Study

THURSDAY, 11/12/26

Students will learn about the artists who painted "in the open air" to capture the fleeting, immediate effects of light and atmosphere on a landscape. This study will give students the opportunity to paint like John Constable, Claude Monet, Renoir, Pissarro and more.
