From The Presidents Dash GOLD COAST MARC CLUB

WE ARE MOVING! So start packing and set your Model A in a new direction. The Board has selected a new meeting place for our monthly general meetings and possibly, much, much more. Many different locations were reviewed for the new general meeting location with certain requirements needing to be met. Having a separate meeting room, central location to the majority of club members, the selection of food and pricing as well as 8329 the service provided. I am very happy to say, such a place has finally been located.

The Pompano Beach B.P.O. Elks Lodge 18908, located at 700 N.E. 10th Street, has extended the welcome mat to our club and has provided a number of different options for the club to take advantage of. The Board had its April 1st meeting at the Lodge, where we were greeted by Exalted Ruler, Jerry Hartman, who truly couldn't do enough to make us feel like longtime friends, actually more like family.

Mr. Hartman provided the Board members with the background and mission statement of the Elks. He described the many events the Lodge provides including Prime Rib Dinners on Wednesday nights as well as many selections from the regular menu, with the most expensive item being in the area of $10.00. The club could eat in the dining area or choose to eat within the meeting room. The lodge has an extremely large bar and dining area with

The lodge is located on NE 10th Street on Pompano Beach, east of Dixie Highway and west of US 1, on the south side of the road, just south of the home to the Goodyear Blimp. It is a fenced in area encompassing 10 acres, with an outside pavilion and many, many shade trees. The club is also scheduling the yearly judging show on Oct. 20th, as well as the Tune Up and Tube Steaks event in September.

In an effort to have as many club members show for the April 17th General Meeting, the first at the Elks Lodge, the Board has agreed to extend a one-time only offer. For each family that shows to the April 17th general meeting and orders dinner/beverages, the first $10.00 of the food/beverage tab will be covered by the club. To clarify, if you are a member of the Gold Coast Model A Club and dues for this year have been paid, the first $10.00 of the food/beverage tab for that member or that member's registered family will be paid by the club. A one-time offer only. So please, join in our excitement and come to the meeting and experience the warm, everyone is like family feeling the Lodge is offering to our club.

Many, many thanks to Russ Gagliano for his continuous efforts and working relationship with the Lodge that provided this opportunity to the club. George

From the Editor's Desk

Halleluiah! We've got a great new General Meeting location. The Elks Lodge is huge with many banquet halls and a full size, state of the art kitchen serving really good, inexpensive food. Come to our first meeting there, try the food and take advantage of the $10 gift George discussed above. And for those members who we never see at our meetings, look for your street address 15930 numbers in this issue. If you see your number, that's an extra $10 prize, $20 total if you come to our next meeting April 17. So, come enjoy our new location and say hello to everybody again!

Also check out Tony's "Blast From The Past". This is what the club was like 35 years ago. Hmmm, sure was a lot more member participation in club activities back then. Come to meeting, get involved, use your Model A, get out and have more fun. John Ford

MIKE VITETTA'S TECH TIPS

MODEL-A FAN AIR FLOW

The following information was taken in part from the Model-A Times magazine. There has been a lot of discussion about which is the best fan to keep that Model-A temperature the coolest. Is the original 2-blade metal fan, the later 4-blade metal fan, or the after market 6-blade plastic fan the best?

For the tests a sophisticated instrument was used to measure the air speed in MPH (Miles Per Hour) at three different engine RPM's (Revolutions Per Minute). The results are not scientific but do give a good indication of which fan produces the most air flow. The tests were performed on a stationary vehicle.

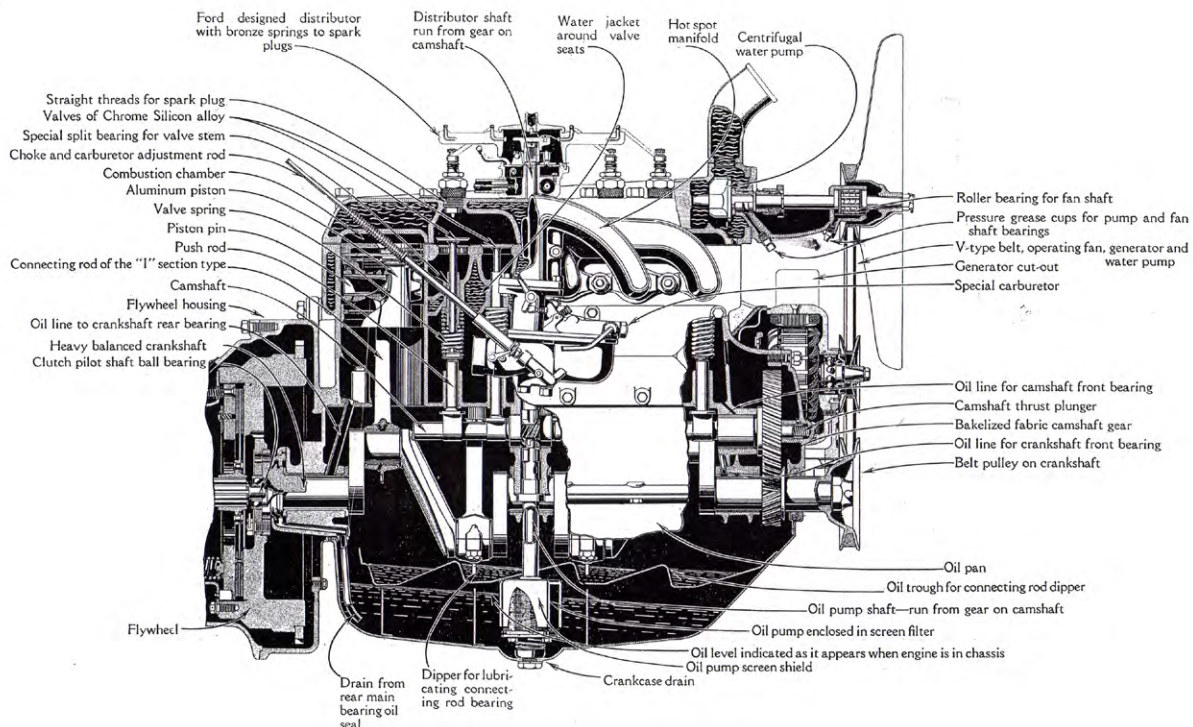

The following tests indicated the fan air flow MPH speeds with engine speeds of 500 RPM, 1,000 RPM, and 1,500 RPM. The measurements were taken at the front right corner of the engine block.

Engine @ 500 RPM (12 mph ground speed)	Engine @ 1,000 RPM (25 mph ground speed)	Engine @ 1,500 RPM (37 mph ground speed)
Fan Air Flow	Air Flow	Air Flow
2-blade 7 mph	18 mph	25 mph
4-blade 11 mph	24 mph	32 mph
6-blade 8 mph	22 mph	34 mph

The above Air Flow test results indicate:

- 1) the 2-bladed fan produces less air flow than either the 4-bladed or 6-bladed fan.
- 2) the 4-bladed fan produces the most air flow up to 1,000 rpm.
- 3) the 6-bladed fan produces the most air flow at 1,500 rpm and higher.

Summary: The 2-blade fan should be adequate if the cooling system is up to par. If not, more fan blades might be needed. A cars higher speed will increase air flow through the radiator, but also increase engine heat. Remember, a good clean radiator, correct coolant, and tight fan belt are essential to good Model-A cooling.

Bright and early Saturday morning, show co-chairmen Dave Johnson and the Huelbigs, accompanied by the Ohrs and the O'Connells, met on the grounds at Young Circle to set up for car registration to begin at 7 a.m. As other people and cars began to arrive, the cars sounded fine; the owners were comparing aches from the vigorous square dancing of the night before. The Estes brought four Model A's including a restored chassis to show one of the stages of a restoration, and the Wurster's "Woody" station wagon which is currently without an engine. Shellie Lake brought some of his A's and some belonging to son-in-law, Dave Dorsch, who was out of town. Shellie brought his new bright red tractor with Model A engine. The Prosjes brought their 1928 Sport Coupe and same vintage Camping Trailer. The delValles were up until 3 a.m. Saturday morning getting their 1930 Roadster in running order for the show. They didn't enter for judging this year, but that red beauty will be a car to beat next year. The Vanellas brought their gorgeous yellow 1930 Cabriolet which just won a first place at the MARC meet in Jacksonville. It is a beautiful restoration. Carolyn said that they consider it a street car and don't really care to have the car judged; they use it daily and like to feel free to enjoy it. (Ed. note: I agree with Carolyn's sentiments wholeheartedly: just as there is value in recognizing and rewarding an excellent restoration, there is value in a proud beauty which can be used and enjoyed. Joe Duerstock and Sheldon Lake are cheering you on.) Some of the entries may not have been award winners, but they sure are rarities which allow a lot of people to reminisce. By 11:00 a.m. there were 45 Model A's around the Circle and Chief Judge, Wes Christensen gathered his crew of judges to begin their task.

At 2 p.m., ten of the club's women graced the grounds with fashions from the Thirties. Kitty Ohr wore her aunt's chocolate wedding dress with matching hat and jacket; Jennifer Sigmon wore a very becoming gold satin ankle length dress; Janie Sigmon's outfit included a dark brown cape with ermine collar which must have been very hot in the warm afternoon sun; Jane Hanna was stunning in her white flapper costume; Barbara Lake looked fetching in a long white eyelet gown with blue gauze parisol, just perfect for tea; Jane O'Connell wore a gray and white typical house dress of the times; Corrine Brandt wore her adorable, but very proper bathing outfit and Lee McElroy wore her own SPAR uniform from her days in the U.S. Air Force. Fashion show coordinators, Mary Ann Mueller and Phyllis Neill were also dressed in period outfits. They did a fine job of the show and the gifts which they presented to the models.

After the fashion show, participants and visitors were treated to foot-stompin' music played by four members of the Blue Grass Music Association.

No show is complete without a little excitement: we almost lost Phyllis Neill. While she was in the ladies' room behind the bandshell, some prankster closed and locked the iron gate which encloses the restroom area. Resourceful Phyllis used her lusty lungs and kept hollerin' until one of the park attendants finally set free our damsel in distress. Between 3 and 4 p.m. the cars began leaving Young Circle so that the owners could grab a little rest and restoration before the evening's Awards Banquet.

The Sun Wah Imperial Restaurant in Hallandale was the setting for Saturday evening's Awards Banquet. The tables were beautifully decorated by Ginny Parker and Lyn Lineberger. Ginny designed the ceramic Model A planters which served as centerpieces and Lyn decorated the head table.

Pete and Kitty Ohr, who were in charge of door prizes for the Banquet, did such a thorough job that there were almost enough prizes for each family to receive one. Tote bags, perfume, cans of oil disguised as toilet paper, an adorable doll made by Lyn Lineberger, a backgammon set, ceramics and artwork were among the gifts donated by generous club members. Door prizes were dispensed before and after the steak dinner as were jokes by our illustrious director, Bill Sigmon. Our raffle prize of one hundred silver dollars was won by non-member Louis Fragale of Lauderdale Lakes.

Chief Judge, Wes Christensen, then took the floor and, with the help of Bill Sigmon, awarded the trophies in each class. Johnny Lineberger won the Best of Show with his 1931 Deluxe Coupe. His beautiful trophy was donated by Joe Rizzo. Awards for both the longest distance driven and the best (or worst) hard luck story went to Bill Henn of Key Largo. Other winners are listed hereafter.

After all the door prizes, awards and centerpieces were given out, a few adventurous individuals still had the energy to dance to the music of the Polynesian band. Most of us just couldn't wait to put our tired, but happy, bodies to bed.

Show Co-Chairmen, Dave Johnson and Ron and Irene Huelbig are to be commended for a big job well done. Their willingness to try some new ideas gave us a fresh slant on our annual show. Evelyn Finnegan and Holly Matteis gave us a Hoedown and Banquet that were well-planned, innovative and great fun. Irene Huelbig efficiently handled pre-registration of individuals and cars and, with the help of Kitty Ohr and Judy Duerstock, made the registration area a hospitality center for members, prospects and visitors alike. Wes Christensen, Bill Sigmon and their twenty-three judges did an excellent job of evaluating the cars in competition. Jack and Jane O'Connell made a rousing success of the Silver Dollar Raffle in both design and execution.

Pete Ohr and Bill Parker got everyone in their places at the flea market. Doug Estes was in charge of Grounds at Young Circle and adeptly placed each car in its appropriate class. The Wursters donated much of the food for the Hoedown and "Henry" for the auction. Ron Huelbig designed, purchased and received donations for the trophies and plaques. Phyllis Neill was in charge of entertainment. Evelyn Finnegan handled publicity for the show. My personal thanks to Doug, Kathy and Don Estes, Tony Spaich, Ron Huelbig and my husband, Joe, for being shutter bugs for the OOGAH BLAST and the club scrapbook. There are many other club members and participants whose collective efforts helped to make our Fourth Annual All Model "A" Show the success that it is.

SUMMER FASHIONS for LATE AFTERNOON and EARLY EVENING

By Christine de Socarras

Formal afternoon dresses were worn to weddings, garden parties, afternoon teas and matinees. Many were fashioned of sheer fabrics, such as chiffon, georgette, crepe de chine, marquisette, organdy, eyelet, bastiste or voile, since they were suitable for the softly flowing lines of the summer season. Silk, rayon, lace, and satin crepe were also used and provided great fashion interest for these stylish dresses worn for special occasions.

Printed fabrics were popular throughout the era. Lovely floral print chiffons were used extensively with designs of varying sizes and available in many colors. Geometric mini prints were often on a white or pastel background. Fabrics with medium size designs were preferred for street frocks, however, large patterns, considered very modern in effect, were predominate for evening. Delicate English garden effects on sheer cotton were often seen, and polka dotted silk was always a favorite.

The styles in 1928 excelled in simplicity of line. A lovely two-piece frock of printed chiffon was popular, with bow accenting the beltline at the hip. The skirt was attached to a crepe de chine slip. The McCall Quarterly for Summer featured a mode of frills. Materials floated in panniers, flounces and circular effects while diaphanous (transparent) draperies gave fullness to skirts. The longer line was accented, and all designs were definitely feminine. From the best of what had been presented in Paris, the McCall Company selected the most representative models for their new release to form a group of fascinating fashions. By following the McCall Printed Cutting Line Patterns available, you could have the smartness of a true Paris frock. Designs by famous couturiers Worth, Patou, Lebouvier, Doucet, Talbot and others were featured. Seen were frocks with row upon row of little flaring ruffles trimming the blouse front and forming a panel in front of the skirt. Side draperies were employed that cascaded in graceful points falling below the hem.

Elaboration, new placing of waistlines and uneven hemlines indicated the changing silhouette in 1929. Clothes became more specialized. It was said, "we dress for the occasion and the hour these days." Trimmings received more attention than in many seasons. Decorative buttons, buckles and ribbons were important and used as trim on many garments, departing from their utilitarian uses. Ribbon bows were placed at the shoulder, hip or base of a collar, and sometimes silk chiffon or velvet flowers were seen at the shoulder or hip for decoration.

The 1930's styles featured longer skirts and more natural waistlines. Capelets and flowing bertha collars were important fashion details. When French couturiere Madeleine Vionnet began designing dresses using the bias or diagonal cut, she started a trend for bias-cut skirts, flounces, jabots, as well as cape collars and sleeves which fell graefully. Used extensively, this technique required soft, supple fabrics. Multicolor silk chiffon dresses were featured with bias-cut sleeves and peplum ruffles, and bias-cut skirts were made of taffeta. One interesting silk satin sleeveless gown appeared with low scoop neckline, deep squared back, and fit clinging with bias-cut inserts, and a bias-cut flounce from hip to knee.

By 1931, the feminine fitted silhouette was in style. Printed chiffons were still seen at many functions in the late afternoon into evening. Styles had changed, however, in that there now was a definite belted waistline. The skirt lengths varied from the middle of the calf to the ankle or instep for more formal occasions, and most of these sheer dresses came with a solid color slip. Many dresses had matching jackets so they could be used for daylight dinners as well as later in the evening at a more formal affair, with the jacket removed.
