ABOUT JOE

Born and raised in NY, Joe's journey into the world of music began with a simple gift from his mother- a toy piano at the age of 2. Recognizing his early interest, Joe's mother became his first music tutor, instilling in him the basics of playing by the age of 5. At the age of 6, with a new Steinway piano at home and a dedicated tutor, Joe's musical education soared.

By the age of 9, Joe had already become a fixture in the school band (and later, the jazz band), showcasing his talent on the trombone. A budding composer since the age of 12, Joe's passion expanded with the acquisition of his first keyboard, evolving into a serious interest in music production.

A twist of fate occurred a few years ago when Joe, captivated by electronic music, decided to try his hand at DJing. Surprising even himself, Joe found a deep love for the craft. Armed with his first DJ controller, he began playing at house parties, discovering a new dimension to his musical expression.

Joe's confidence in performance recently soared after performing at different public venues with larger audiences in Tulum, Mexico. This is when his dreams finally became a reality, marking a pivotal moment in his music career.

Back in New York, Joe is ready to continue his musical journey, gracing stages at remarkable venues and sharing his passion for music. While global aspirations dance in his thoughts, Joe remains grounded, embracing the wisdom of taking things step by step. With each performance and new song that he creates, Joe seeks to bring something beautiful to the world- Believing that his music can weave a captivating narrative that resonates with audiences far and wide.
