PIPE TOBACCOS AND CIGARETTES

OF

ENGLISH GROWN TOBACCOS

SEE LIST ABOVE.

England pays the U.S. of America many millions pounds yearly for tobacco.

Agriculture has become unprofitable in the British Isles, and British trade is saddled with enormous taxation to provide for over 2,000,000 unemployed.

One of the chief Agricultural productions of this country was at one time tobacco. Millions of pounds worth could be grown here now, finding employment for English men and women, and thus doing away with the burden of taxation.
