September 11, 2001

Five weeks after the reunion, terrorists struck at America, killing thousands and rousing the spirit of patriotism and love that has carried America through its darkest hours. At right are some thoughts from AHS-71's unofficial poet laureate, Ed Swartley, that might make us all think a little about how precious life is and how suddenly it can end :

The Seed

With towering fury, the devil let go,
and the walls came a tumblin' down;
America slept, she was deaf to the call
'til satan slapped hard at the wall ...

The temple crashed with the devil's own voice in the morning's darkest hour.
But from deep in the chasm
another hushed voice whispered ten million times strong.

The devil shuddered and ice coursed his veins
when the voice billowed up in the smoke:
"No harbor is yours 'til your own grave is mined,
and evil forever is banned
This act, simply never will stand, you fiend ...
This act, it shall not stand."

With fury and vengeance a mustard seed plant where fell steel and concrete and soot;
The flower of Freedom will grow once again in the junkyard at Liberty's foot ...
in the junkyard at Liberty's foot.

Life Endures

The Innocent blinded wept and clawed
through the rubble and chaos of hell
Prayed
as flame
sucked the air from their lungs and melted the steel in the walls.

From high up above
They tumbled and leapt
to the maw of the hungry mass
grave
Buried alive
They wept
and they clawed to the waiting arms of their God.
