EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

The third quarter of 2026 marked continued progress across The Infinit™ Foundation's core initiatives. Project Forevermore completed its primary build in Unreal Engine and advanced to programming and avatar development, while funding efforts continued. Infinit's AI filmmaking initiative progresses with The King Forevermore music video underway as a fully AI-driven film production, potentially establishing a pipeline for future AI-driven films. Infinit™ Dominion continued development with increasingly hyper-realistic environments, while Book Three of The Infinit™ Universe remains in development.

FROM THE CEO

As we conclude the third quarter of 2026, I am grateful for the continued faithfulness of God and for the progress taking place across the work of The Infinit™ Foundation. This quarter marked an important transition for several of our projects, as work that has been focused on building foundational systems and environments now moves toward the next stages of development. While much of this work remains behind the scenes, we continue to see the vision taking greater shape.

Our commitment remains the same: to create works that proclaim the Gospel with excellence, creativity, and purpose.

Eternity Chapel: Project Forevermore Enters Its Next Stage

Project Forevermore reached an important milestone this quarter with the completion of its primary build in Unreal Engine. Following extensive work on its environments, systems, and foundational architecture, the project has now entered its next phase of development: programming and avatar development.

This transition represents meaningful progress toward the standalone Eternity Chapel experience. Our focus now turns toward bringing this world to life through interactive systems, digital characters, and the technologies that will enable users to engage with the experience in meaningful ways.

Funding efforts for Project Forevermore remain underway, with steady progress being made toward securing the resources needed to advance the project through its remaining stages and ultimately toward public release.

Beyond the virtual worship experience itself, Project Forevermore also encompasses Infinit's growing initiative to use artificial intelligence in cinematic storytelling and film production. We believe emerging AI filmmaking technologies offer new opportunities to create compelling visual narratives, expand our creative capabilities, and communicate the Gospel through innovative forms of media.

A key undertaking within this initiative is The King Forevermore, a music video currently in production as a fully AI-driven film project. Beyond its immediate creative purpose, this production represents an opportunity to develop and refine a repeatable approach to AI-assisted filmmaking. The experience and workflows established through this project could help lay the groundwork for a broader pipeline of AI-driven film productions, opening new possibilities for the stories we can tell and the audiences we can reach.

The Infinit™ Universe: Book Three

Development of Book Three of The Infinit™ Universe continues. As the next chapter of the broader Infinit™ story, the project remains in active development as we continue to thoughtfully shape its narrative, world, and spiritual themes.

We remain committed to ensuring that each installment contributes meaningfully to the larger vision of the universe while remaining faithful to the purpose behind the work.

Infinit™ Dominion: Building an Immersive World

Development of Infinit™ Dominion also continues, with increasing attention being given to the integration of hyper-realistic environments within its immersive virtual world.

As the technology continues to advance, we are exploring how cinematic environments, interactive experiences, and virtual worlds can come together to create something both visually compelling and deeply immersive. Each stage of development brings the project closer to realizing the expansive world we have envisioned.

Looking Ahead

The third quarter represents another important step forward for the Foundation. Project Forevermore has completed its primary build and moved into programming and avatar development, while our AI filmmaking initiative continues to explore new approaches to cinematic storytelling. Meanwhile, Book Three of The Infinit™ Universe and Infinit™ Dominion remain in active development.

We recognize that meaningful development requires patience, persistence, and faithful stewardship. Much of what we are building today may not yet be visible to the public, but we believe these efforts are preparing the way for opportunities that extend far beyond what we can presently see.

Thank you for your continued prayers, generosity, and encouragement. Your partnership makes it possible for us to continue developing works that seek to glorify Christ, communicate the Gospel, and use the creative and technological tools of our generation for His purposes.

With gratitude and resolve,

Daniel M. Ross
Chief Executive Officer
