

I'm not robot  reCAPTCHA

I am not robot!

To download videos from facebook

How to download videos from facebook comments.

How to download videos from facebook messenger. Best app to download videos from facebook. How to download videos from facebook to gallery. How to download videos from facebook live. How to download videos from facebook reels. How to download videos from facebook on pc. wapukigumuyu How to download videos from facebook lite. How to download videos from facebook on mac. App to download videos from facebook. How to download videos from facebook on android. How to download videos from facebook to your phone. Link to download videos from facebook. How to download videos from facebook to iphone. How to download videos from facebook group.

Want to know how to download videos from Facebook? You're in the right place. Downloading videos from Facebook is useful for a range of reasons, namely so that you can watch them wherever you are — internet or not. Unfortunately, there's no official way to download videos from Facebook like there is with some of the best streaming services like YouTube Premium or Netflix. You might have seen the button next to clips on the site that saves "Save video", but all this does is add the video to a saved videos list, essentially a favorites list, so you can watch it later on the app or website. Luckily, there's a way to download videos from Facebook, and it works on desktop and mobile. You must ensure, however, that there aren't any copyright restrictions on the video you're downloading before you get started. Otherwise, you might land yourself in hot water. It's also worth bearing in mind that the uploader of private videos may now want you to download them — after all, they are probably private for a reason. Once you've made sure to check both of the above, here's how to download Facebook videos. These steps were tested using Chrome browser and should be the same for Mac and Windows.

1. In your desktop browser, go to the Facebook website and find the video you want to download. xuhedini
2. For the purposes of this guide, we'll use a video on the official Tom's Guide Facebook page.
3. Click Share and then click Copy link. (Image credit: Future)
3. Paste this link into a new browser tab. It may be shortened to an "fb.watch" link.
4. If so, press Enter so it expands and you should be left with a full URL starting with . \(Image credit: Future\)
4. zufutadi Now change the URL in the address bar so that "www." is changed to "mbasic." and press Enter. (Image credit: Future)
5. You'll now be presented with an ugly mobile view, as seen below. Press the play button to start the video. It should open in a new tab. If it doesn't, right click the video and select Open in a New Tab. (Image credit: Future)
6. Right click on the video and click Save Video As. (Image credit: Future)
7. Choose a location in your file explorer and save the video. (Image credit: Future)

How to download videos from Facebook on mobile (non-Samsung) Downloading Facebook videos on mobile is a whole different kettle of fish, and while there are apps that claim to do it, a far simpler way is to use the website FBDown.net. This works on Android and iOS, but you'll need to download the Firefox browser on an iPhone or iPad, as the FBDown.net site doesn't load properly in Safari. If you own a Samsung device, skip down to the next section. Bear in mind that this method only works on publicly shared Facebook videos.

1. Open the Facebook mobile app and log in. (Image credit: Alan Martin)
2. Find the video you want to download, and tap Share underneath. (Image credit: Alan Martin)
3. Swipe across and tap Copy Link. (Image credit: Alan Martin)
4. Open your mobile browser (remember, to use Firefox if you're on an iPhone) and head to www.fbdown.net. Then, paste the video URL into the box in the middle of the page, and tap Download. (Image credit: Alan Martin)
5. On the next page, tap the link to download in either Normal or High Quality. This will impact the file size and how much space the video takes up on your mobile device. (Image credit: Alan Martin)
6. This will open another page showing just the Facebook video. Long-press the clip and then tap Download video when the option appears. The video will now be saved to your mobile device, where you can play it offline and keep it for as long as you want. (Image credit: Alan Martin)

How to download videos from Facebook on a Samsung device If you own a Samsung device, you can download videos from Facebook without having to use a separate app or website. We tested this method on a Z Fold 4 and it worked perfectly, although it didn't work on the Google Pixel or OnePlus devices we also tried to test it on.

1. Find a Facebook video in Chrome. You don't need to tap it to open it in full-screen mode, the next step will work either from your feed or in full-screen. (Image credit: Future)
2. Long press the video and tap Download. (Image credit: Future)

Once the Download is complete, your video will be stored in your phone's files. Needless to say, this is our favorite method! (Image credit: Future)

Now you're familiar with how to download videos from Facebook, you may also want to learn how to hide Likes on Facebook or how to make yourself anonymous on Facebook. Or if you think emojis are so last year, check out how to make your own Facebook avatar. We also have more guides for downloading content. Read how to download YouTube videos, how to download YouTube videos on Chrome and how to download music from YouTube. Instant access to breaking news, the hottest reviews, great deals and helpful tips.

1. Open your computer's web browser. There's a way to download Facebook videos to your computer without installing special software or using an online downloader. It's a little more complicated because it involves poking through Facebook's HTML code, but once you get the hang of it, it's pretty easy!
2. Go to the Facebook video you want to download. It must be a public video—you can't download private videos or videos posted to friends-only accounts.
3. Click the double-headed arrow at the bottom-right of the video. This expands the video into a larger view. If you don't see this icon, tap the Play button at the center of the video first to start playing it.
4. Copy the URL from the address bar. Just highlight the address at the top of your browser and press Control + C (PC) or Command + C (Mac) to copy it.
5. Open a new Incognito Window in Chrome. You can do this in Chrome or Edge by clicking the Chrome three-dot menu at the top-right corner and selecting New Incognito window. If you're using Safari, click the File menu and select New Private Window.
6. Paste the copied URL into the address bar and press ↵ Enter or ↵ Return. This loads the public (and simplified) version of the video in the Incognito window.
7. Right-click a blank area of the page and select View page source. This displays the back-end code of the page containing the video.
8. Check the box next to "Line wrap." It's at the top-left corner of the source code in both Chrome and Edge. This will make your next task much easier. If you're using Safari, you should already be seeing the source code in an easy-to-read format.
9. Press Control+F (PC) or ⌘ Command+F (Mac).

App to download videos from facebook. How to download videos from facebook on android. How to download videos from facebook to your phone. laluridaxoda Link to download videos from facebook. How to download videos from facebook to iphone. How to download videos from facebook group. hinobellificu

Want to know how to download videos from Facebook?

How to download videos from facebook to gallery. yujigoda How to download videos from facebook live. How to download videos from facebook reels. How to download videos from facebook on pc. How to download videos from facebook lite. How to download videos from facebook on mac. App to download videos from facebook.

How to download videos from facebook to gallery. yujigoda How to download videos from facebook live. How to download videos from facebook reels. How to download videos from facebook on pc. How to download videos from facebook lite. How to download videos from facebook on mac. App to download videos from facebook.

How to download videos from facebook on android. How to download videos from facebook to your phone. Link to download videos from facebook. How to download videos from facebook to iphone. How to download videos from facebook group.

Want to know how to download videos from Facebook? You're in the right place. Downloading videos from Facebook is useful for a range of reasons, namely so that you can watch them wherever you are — internet or not. Unfortunately, there's no official way to download videos from Facebook like there is with some of the best streaming services like YouTube Premium or Netflix. You might have seen the button next to clips on the site that saves "Save video", but all this does is add the video to a saved videos list, essentially a favorites list, so you can watch it later on the app or website. Luckily, there's a way to download videos from Facebook, and it works on desktop and mobile. You must ensure, however, that there aren't any copyright restrictions on the video you're downloading before you get started. Otherwise, you might land yourself in hot water. It's also worth bearing in mind that the uploader of private videos may now want you to download them — after all, they are probably private for a reason. Once you've made sure to check both of the above, here's how to download Facebook videos. These steps were tested using Chrome browser and should be the same for Mac and Windows.

1. In your desktop browser, go to the Facebook website and find the video you want to download. For the purposes of this guide, we'll use a video on the official Tom's Guide Facebook page.
2. Click Share and then click Copy link. (Image credit: Future)
3. Paste this link into a new browser tab. It may be shortened to an "fb.watch" link. If so, press Enter so it expands and you should be left with a full URL starting with . \(Image credit: Future\)
4. Now change the URL in the address bar so that "www." is changed to "mbasic." and press Enter. (Image credit: Future)
5. You'll now be presented with an ugly mobile view, as seen below. Press the play button to start the video. It should open in a new tab. If it doesn't, right click the video and select Open in a New Tab. (Image credit: Future)
6. Right click on the video and click Save Video As. (Image credit: Future)
7. Choose a location in your file explorer and save the video. (Image credit: Future)

How to download videos from Facebook on mobile (non-Samsung) Downloading Facebook videos on mobile is a whole different kettle of fish, and while there are apps that claim to do it, a far simpler way is to use the website FBDown.net. This works on Android and iOS, but you'll need to download the Firefox browser on an iPhone or iPad, as the FBDown.net site doesn't load properly in Safari. If you own a Samsung device, skip down to the next section. Bear in mind that this method only works on publicly shared Facebook videos.

1. Open the Facebook mobile app and log in. (Image credit: Alan Martin)
2. Find the video you want to download, and tap Share underneath. (Image credit: Alan Martin)
3. Swipe across and tap Copy Link. (Image credit: Alan Martin)
4. Open your mobile browser (remember, to use Firefox if you're on an iPhone) and head to www.fbdown.net. Then, paste the video URL into the box in the middle of the page, and tap Download. (Image credit: Alan Martin)
5. On the next page, tap the link to download in either Normal or High Quality. This will impact the file size and how much space the video takes up on your mobile device. (Image credit: Alan Martin)
6. This will open another page showing just the Facebook video. Long-press the clip and then tap Download video when the option appears. The video will now be saved to your mobile device, where you can play it offline and keep it for as long as you want. (Image credit: Alan Martin)

How to download videos from facebook lite. How to download videos from facebook on mac. App to download videos from facebook. How to download videos from facebook on android. How to download videos from facebook to your phone. Link to download videos from facebook. How to download videos from facebook to iphone. How to download videos from facebook group.

Want to know how to download videos from Facebook? You're in the right place. Downloading videos from Facebook is useful for a range of reasons, namely so that you can watch them wherever you are — internet or not. Unfortunately, there's no official way to download videos from Facebook like there is with some of the best streaming services like YouTube Premium or Netflix. You might have seen the button next to clips on the site that saves "Save video", but all this does is add the video to a saved videos list, essentially a favorites list, so you can watch it later on the app or website. Luckily, there's a way to download videos from Facebook, and it works on desktop and mobile. You must ensure, however, that there aren't any copyright restrictions on the video you're downloading before you get started. Otherwise, you might land yourself in hot water. It's also worth bearing in mind that the uploader of private videos may now want you to download them — after all, they are probably private for a reason. Once you've made sure to check both of the above, here's how to download Facebook videos. These steps were tested using Chrome browser and should be the same for Mac and Windows.

1. In your desktop browser, go to the Facebook website and find the video you want to download. For the purposes of this guide, we'll use a video on the official Tom's Guide Facebook page.
2. Click Share and then click Copy link.
3. Paste this link into a new browser tab. It may be shortened to an "fb.watch" link. If so, press Enter so it expands and you should be left with a full URL starting with `https://www.facebook.com/`. (Image credit: Future)
4. Now change the URL in the address bar so that "www." is changed to "mbasic." and press Enter. (Image credit: Future)
5. You'll now be presented with an ugly mobile view, as seen below. Press the play button to start the video. It should open in a new tab. If it doesn't, right click the video and select Open in a New Tab. (Image credit: Future)
6. Right click on the video and click Save Video As. (Image credit: Future)
7. Choose a location in your file explorer and save the video. (Image credit: Future)

How to download videos from Facebook on mobile (non-Samsung) Downloading Facebook videos on mobile is a whole different kettle of fish, and while there are apps that claim to do it, a far simpler way is to use the website FBDown.net. This works on Android and iOS, but you'll need to download the Firefox browser on an iPhone or iPad, as the FBDown.net site doesn't load properly in Safari. If you own a Samsung device, skip down to the next section. Bear in mind that this method only works on publicly shared Facebook videos.

1. Open the Facebook mobile app and log in. (Image credit: Alan Martin)
2. Find the video you want to download, and tap Share underneath. (Image credit: Alan Martin)
3. Swipe across and tap Copy Link. (Image credit: Alan Martin)
4. Open your mobile browser (remember, to use Firefox if you're on an iPhone) and head to www.fbdown.net. Then, paste the video URL into the box in the middle of the page, and tap Download. (Image credit: Alan Martin)
5. On the next page, tap the link to download in either Normal or High Quality. This will impact the file size and how much space the video takes up on your mobile device. (Image credit: Alan Martin)
6. This will open another page showing just the Facebook video. Long-press the clip and then tap Download video when the option appears. The video will now be saved to your mobile device, where you can play it offline and keep it for as long as you want. (Image credit: Alan Martin)

How to download videos from Facebook on a Samsung device If you own a Samsung device, you can download videos from Facebook without having to use a separate app or website. We tested this method on a Z Fold 4 and it worked perfectly, although it didn't work on the Google Pixel or OnePlus devices we also tried to test it on.

1. Find a Facebook video in Chrome. You don't need to tap it to open it in full-screen mode, the next step will work either from your feed or in full-screen. (Image credit: Future)
2. Long press the video and tap Download. (Image credit: Future)

Once the Download is complete, your video will be stored in your phone's files. Needless to say, this is our favorite method!

Now you're familiar with how to download videos from Facebook, you may also want to learn how to hide Likes on Facebook or how to make yourself anonymous on Facebook. Or if you think emojis are so last year, check out how to make your own Facebook avatar. We also have more guides for downloading content. Read how to download YouTube videos, how to download YouTube videos on Chrome and how to download music from YouTube. Instant access to breaking news, the hottest reviews, great deals and helpful tips.

1. Open your computer's web browser. There's a way to download Facebook videos to your computer without installing special software or using an online downloader. It's a little more complicated because it involves poking through Facebook's HTML code, but once you get the hang of it, it's pretty easy!
2. Go to the Facebook video you want to download. It must be a public video—you can't download private videos or videos posted to friends-only accounts.
3. Click the double-headed arrow at the bottom-right of the video. This expands the video into a larger view. If you don't see this icon, tap the Play button at the center of the video first to start playing it.
4. Copy the URL from the address bar, just highlight the address at the top of your browser and press Control + C (PC) or Command + C (Mac) to copy it.
5. Open a new Incognito Window in Chrome. You can do this in Chrome or Edge by clicking the Chrome three-dot menu at the top-right corner and selecting New Incognito window. If you're using Safari, click the File menu and select New Private Window.
6. Paste the copied URL into the address bar and press Enter or Return. This loads the public (and simplified) version of the video in the Incognito window.
7. Right-click a blank area of the page and select View page source. This displays the back-end code of the page containing the video.
8. Check the box next to "Line wrap." It's at the top-left corner of the source code in both Chrome and Edge. This will make your next task much easier.

If you're using Safari, you should already be seeing the source code in an easy-to-read format.

9. Press Control+F (PC) or Command+F (Mac). This opens the find bar at the top, which allows you to search for a certain string of text.
10. Type `hd_src`. In a moment, you should see two highlighted results in the source code—one that says `hd_src_no_ratelimit` right before an extremely long URL, and that just says `hd_src` after the URL and its trailing comma.
11. Copy the long URL between the two `hd_src` entries. Ignore the quotation marks at the beginning and end—just start with `https` and end after selecting the final number before the comma. Once you highlight this URL, press Control + C or Command + C to copy it.
12. Press Control+T (PC) or Command+C (Mac) to open a new browser tab. The new tab will open in your Incognito window.
13. Paste the URL into the new browser tab and press Enter or Return. This takes you to a much smaller version of the video—a version you can download!
14. Click the three dots at the bottom and select Download. This saves the Facebook video to your computer in the MP4 format, which you can play in almost any video player. Advertisement

Want to deactivate your Facebook account, but are afraid of losing your precious videos? Maybe some of your video uploads are no longer stored on your device. Fortunately, downloading videos from Facebook is a lot easier than you might think. The best part is that you don't need to search for a shady third-party file converter. All it takes is a few a clicks and few open tabs in your browser. Here is a step-by-step guide on how to download a video from Facebook using your computer. This tutorial uses a Mac, but the steps are the same for PC users.

1. Pull up the video you wish to download.
2. Copy the video's URL and paste it into a new tab.
3. In the new tab, replace the "www." in the URL to "mbasic." then hit enter.
4. This will prompt a bare-bones version of the Facebook page and the video.
5. Click on the video, it should automatically load in a new tab.
6. Right-click on the video in the new tab and choose "save video as...".
7. Save the video to your computer.