

FREE Report: The Easy Way To Get Startup Funding For Your Business

You're All Hyped Up

You've drafted your business plan, created a corporate entity and have had a designer diligently working on your website to your specifications. Also you of course are planning the opening day of your new enterprise. Being an entrepreneur can be an exciting venture but also comes with expenses, especially when you haven't started generating revenue yet.

The Usual Procedure

The need for startup funding will quickly be obvious. Inventory, money for your rental space and marketing costs are just a few of the costs that are in store.

Even though there are organizations whose purpose is to assist beginning business owners with how to get up to speed with running their operation, they also tend to leave out a very important point: how to get MONEY! The ones that say they will help you get startup financing often make the process very drawn out and complex. There are business plans, financial projections and much more regarding the paperwork required. In addition, the time frame for being approved and actually getting the funding can be months long.

The Easier And Faster Way

There's a much easier way to get the needed funding for your business, it's also faster as well. When you work with one of Carpenter Financial Services' lending partners you can arrange to get a business line of credit for $10K to $150K. Also the process is simple, a ton of paperwork is NOT required and you can receive funds in 7 to 10 business days.

Your Credit Score Is The Key

Our lending partners require just ONE thing for the application process, your 3 credit scores much be 650 or higher. That's it! How much in financing they will approve you for is determined through your overall credit history. Also the approval process only takes 24 business hours from the time you submit the online application and it costs you nothing to see how much you're approved for.
