

FOCUS

Irwin Seating Company

Focus is engineered to provide comfort and durability in the classroom. These innovative solutions provide a range of aesthetic choices for worksurfaces, modesty panels, seating and options for power / data. Tables are available without swing-arm seating. Focus can be configured to compliment almost any room and the variety of options add those final touches to make the space comfortable. Talk with your authorized Irwin Seating Company representative and discover how the Irwin Difference will work for your project.

Acton

Acton swing-arm seating provides an award-winning, ergonomic design for active learning environments. Acton is provided with a height adjustment mechanism and it is available with 180° rotation to allow the occupant to collaborate with those seated behind. The reliable memory return function keeps the room in order when it's not in use.

Nima

Nima swing-arm seating is provided with the same functionality found in the Acton chair but also offers a flex-back feature for added comfort.

Focus tables are available in four depths (18", 20", 22" & 24"). Tables can be supplied on a radius and they are joined together for a continuous work surface.

Modesty and end panels are available in three heights (11", 15" & 26"). They are supplied continuous to match the table's configuration. Panels are available in steel or laminate.

Focus Fixed Tables

Focus is available without Acton or Nima swing arm chairs. Installed as continuous strip tables, Focus can be used with any caster or sled-base chair.

Focus can be supplied with our E-Link system to feed power hungry devices and provide network connectivity. This U.L. listed, snap-together system is fed to the tables via a power pedestal. E-Link is available with three options.
