From Fr. Mike's Desk

Today, from the Book of Numbers, we read, "With their patience worn out by the journey, the people complained against God and Moses...In punishment, the Lord sent among the people SARAPH Serpents, which bit the people so that many died. Then the people came to Moses and said, 'We have sinned...pray the Lord to take the serpents from us!'" So, Moses prayed... and the Lord said to Moses, "make a saraph and mount it on a pole, and if any who have been bitten look at it, they will live." "Moses...made a bronze serpent and mounted it on a pole, and whenever anyone who had been bitten by a serpent looked at the bronze serpent, he lived." The people, despite their complaining, were not abandoned by God in the desert, even though it appears that God was not a hundred percent happy with them. He sent the serpents upon the camp who inflicted damage and death, and one might think that this is the end. However, God tells Moses that by erecting the bronze serpent, they survived, and God once again set them free from slavery. Only this time, the enslaver was sin!

As we continue reading the Gospel, we see Jesus saying to Nicodemus, "...just as Moses lifted up the serpent in the desert, so must the Son of Man be lifted up, so everyone who believes in Him might not perish, but might have eternal life. For God did not send His Son into the world to condemn the world, but that the world might be saved." The bronze serpent was an invitation to repent and then be healed, but this healing, while wonderful, by setting the people free from sin, would not prevent them from still physically dying. This would all change with Jesus.

Christ's lifted high on the Cross, so all can see, was following the example God gave Moses, but it was not stopping there. It was superseding Moses, for Jesus' lifting up meant His death, but it also meant our lives, as His death destroys spiritual death, sin, and darkness, and through His Resurrection, not only does He come back alive, so do we. Just like the people in the desert, they had to look up and embrace the bronze serpent; we must fully accept the salvation won for us by Christ.

As we were coming to the end of the past Easter Season, the Gospel readings were mostly from John. They spoke of two major themes: love and belief. We were called to Love as Jesus loves us, and to be instruments of love. We are also called to believe in the Gospel, especially that the Father sent Jesus to save us and have something more to depend on than the world and society's ideals.

We can only be instruments of Jesus' love by celebrating the Cross, for even now, when we look up at the Crucifix on the Church wall or at home, we are reminded of our salvation, and while it caused His death, Christ took it on so we can be saved. Today, unlike Good Friday, is not to be a sad day, but a day to celebrate and share in God's Glory, the Glory of Christ.

God bless you always.

Fr. Mike

Care for Our Common Home

At the end, we will find ourselves face to face with the infinite beauty of God (cf. 1 Cor 13:12), and be able to read with admiration and happiness the mystery of the universe, which with us will share in unending plenitude. Even now we are journeying towards the sabbath of eternity, the new Jerusalem, towards our common home in heaven. Jesus says: "I make all things new" (Rev 21:5). Eternal life will be a shared experience of awe, in which each creature, resplendently transfigured, will take its rightful place and have something to give those poor men and women who will have been liberated once and for all.

Care For Our Common Home (2015) Sec. 243

It is time to bring that focus and clarity to our lives.”* - (33 days to Eucharistic Glory, page 48)

Dear Jesus, You are the healer of my soul; take the blindness from my eyes, the deafness from my ears, the darkness from my mind, and the hardness from my heart. Fill me with the grace, wisdom, and courage to do your will in all things, Amen.

CATECHETICAL SUNDAY

On Sunday, September 21st, we will join with the global Church to celebrate Catechetical Sunday. It is a day set aside to acknowledge and to give thanks for the faithful and generous service of our Catechists. These dedicated men and women volunteer to come every week during the school year to teach the faith to our young people. St. Edward's Church in Syosset will continue to flourish for years to come because of their steadfast commitment to catechizing our youth. As a small token of our appreciation for their teaching ministry here at Saint Edward's, there will be a special blessing for our catechists at all the Masses on the weekend of the 21st.

We ask that you keep these fellow parishioners in your prayers as they begin a new school year of religious education for our young people.
