From Fr. Mike's Desk

St. Paul wrote in his Letter to the Romans that whatever was written previously was for our instruction. God had it written so we might have endurance and encouragement, and so we may have hope. As he writes, "May the God of endurance and encouragement grant you to think in harmony with one another, in keeping with Christ Jesus, that with one accord you might with one voice glorify the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ." Paul also writes this so that they, and we, will not give in to hopelessness as they/we wait for the Second Coming of Christ! He shares with his audience how Christ first came to the Jews to minister to them and call them to the good news, and how later the Apostles were sent out to proclaim the news to the Gentiles, fulfilling the prophecy, "...I will praise you among the Gentiles and sing praises to your name." We still proclaim the Good News, and still many more need to hear it. It is in this light that we are still using this Second Sunday of Advent to focus on the Second Coming. Again, as Paul tells us, there is still so much work to be done. However, only the Father knows when He will send the Son to return, but somehow, we get the idea that this is not the time yet, or maybe it is - only God knows.

Our first reading from the Prophet Isaiah gives us a glimpse of what the Kingdom of God will be like, how existence will be so much better, and how enemies will be friends. As he writes, "There shall be no harm or ruin on all my holy mountain; for the earth will be filled with knowledge of the LORD." In today's Gospel, John the Baptist comes on the scene, as he will next week also, when he will ask Jesus a very important question. John fulfills the promise that before the Messiah appeared, the Prophet Elijah would reappear. Matthew goes to great lengths to be sure that you see the connection. John is dressed as Elijah would dress, and he speaks to the people, the religious leaders, and the king the way the prophet did. He calls all to repent, and he does not do it politely. John likewise would like the people to know that he fulfills the words of Isaiah when he identifies himself as, "A voice of one crying out in the desert, 'Prepare the way of the Lord, make straight his paths.'"

John tells the people that he is not the Messiah and that the Messiah is greater than he is. The Messiah has his winnowing fan in his hand, and he will clear His threshing floor and gather His wheat (those who will be saved) in His barn. The chaff, however, (those who will not be saved) He will burn with unquenchable fire. Again, these are reminders to us about the Second Coming, but today's Gospel and next week's begin the transition to celebrating Jesus' First Coming. Also, as mentioned last week, the whole Advent Season calls us to hear John's call to follow the Messiah in His Third Coming, as we live our lives with Him and do our best to be encouraged to build the Kingdom of God and follow Dramatic Missionary Growth. Please use this season to its fullness and ask the Lord to show us where we need to grow, to change, and serve Him better. Let us ask the Lord to forgive us of our sins both individually and communally, and to sanctify our Church, its leaders, and all its members.

Monday is the Solemnity of the Immaculate Conception of the Blessed Virgin Mary. We will celebrate the Solemnity tomorrow December 8th, with our usual 9 AM Mass and one at 12:10 PM and 7:00 PM. We will also have the National Night of Prayer starting tomorrow night at 9:00 PM and ending at 1:00 AM Tuesday morning. We will spend time before the exposed Blessed Sacrament praying the Rosary and other prayers, as we pray for the end of Abortion and the taking of all Innocent Life. Please join us for one or all of these hours or something in between.

Happy Second Week of Advent!

Fr. Mike

Next Week's Readings

Third Sunday of Advent

December 14, 2025

First Reading - Isaiah 35:1-6a, 10

Psalm 146:6-7, 8-9, 9-10

Second Reading - James 5:7-10

Gospel - Matthew 11:2-11

Next Week's Gospel Question

In Matthew's Gospel we hear that John the Baptist, upon hearing of the good works that Jesus has performed, sends his disciples to Jesus to ask "Are you the one who is to come, or should we look for another?" Jesus does not claim to be the one, but tells them to "go and tell John what you hear and see: the blind regain their sight, the lame walk, lepers are cleansed, the deaf hear, the dead are raised, and the poor have the good news proclaimed to them."

As Catholics you have heard all of this before. Do you believe that Jesus is the one, and that He will come again?

Care for Our Common Home

In calling to mind the figure of Saint Francis of Assisi, we come to realize that a healthy relationship with creation is one dimension of overall personal conversion, which entails the recognition of our errors, sins, faults and failures, and leads to heartfelt repentance and desire to change. The Australian bishops spoke of the importance of such conversion for achieving reconciliation with creation:

"To achieve such reconciliation, we must examine our lives and acknowledge the ways in which we have harmed God's creation through our actions and our failure to act. We need to experience a conversion, or change of heart".

Pope Francis, Encyclical Letter Laudato Si' - Care For Our Common Home (2015) Sec. 218

Parish Holy Hour Eucharistic Adoration and Benediction

One of the most practical ways to grow in the virtue of trust is to become more trustworthy. Trust determines how we participate in relationships. Who we trust reveals our character. The gift of trust is a tranquil soul. [33 Days to Eucharistic Glory, p.81]

Dear Jesus, You are the healer of my soul; take the blindness from my eyes, the deafness from my ears, the darkness from my mind, and the hardness from my heart. Fill me with the grace, wisdom, and courage to do your will in all things, Amen.

This past week the Knights of Columbus were assisted by the Squires, from both St. Edwards and St. Pauls, in setting up the 100 Christmas trees on the front and side lawn of our church. This annual fundraiser for the church has been a great success in the past, and is a great way to honor a loved one and to show your support for our church.

Saturday, December 6th after the 5:00 PM Mass.

If you haven't done so already, there is still time to sponsor one or more trees. For a donation of $150 you can sponsor an individual, family or business, and your tree will receive a placard in their name.
