From Fr. Mike's Desk

Today's Gospel is very familiar to most of us. It is the reading for the third Sunday of Lent for the Cycle A, which we are in this year. We also do these readings on this Sunday when we have people preparing to celebrate Baptism at Easter. The theme of water giving new life in the Gospel and in the reading from Exodus is why we use these readings for those getting ready for Baptism. However, since we do not have catechumens this year, I thought we should look at some of the other elements that are at work in these readings.

The Gospel tells us that Jesus is passing through Samaria to get to Judea and Galilee as a short cut. Normally, Jews would avoid Samaria because the Jews and Samaritans did not get along. In fact, they hated each other. The Jews looked down on them because they were of mixed heritage and did not practice the faith in the proper way. However, Jesus knows time is fleeting, so He takes the short cut, and when they arrive at the village, Jesus sends the Apostles out to get food and supplies. Now comes the part we are familiar with, the woman comes to the well at noon, which was not the usual time for people to come to the well. She goes at that time because she will be alone, but there is this strange man at the well that day! Who is he, why is he here, and finally why is he speaking to me, the woman wonders? After Jesus asks her for water she protests. He then tells her that she should be asking Him for water, the water of eternal life, the Holy Spirit. He tells her about her past and present, and she now believes Him to be a prophet. At one point, she asks Jesus if He was greater than Jacob who founded the well centuries ago. What she does not know is that He is! As we continue with the account, Jesus will reveal to this foreigner that He is the Messiah.

Why does Our Lord tell her? I think He tells her because she is seeking the truth and she wants to change her life. Jesus tells her because she, and those like her, are the food Jesus seeks and tells the Apostles about when they return. Of course, it is not physical food to eat. His food is souls who are seeking new life and a new relationship with God. As Jesus tells us later in John's Gospel, He is the way, the truth and the life, and no one can come to the Father except through Him. Jesus has come into the world to call all people, and He has come to show mercy and forgiveness to all. The woman, who was caught up in sin, was now set free. Of course, she had to change. However, after meeting Jesus how could she not help but change?

We also see God's love and mercy even in the Exodus account. When the people were rebelling against Moses and God, and as they complained about no water, God, out of love, still gives them the life-giving water. It didn't even matter though how they complained against Him. As we continue our Lenten Journey, we should look at the areas in our life that need to change, certainly the parts that come between God and ourselves. Like the woman at the well, we should change, and remember that she did not do it all by herself. She did it with the help of Jesus and the Father and the Holy Spirit. We can do the same, all we have to do is ask.

Happy Third Sunday of Lent!

Fr. Mike

And hope does not disappoint, because the love of God has been poured out into our hearts through the Holy Spirit who has been given to us.

Romans 5:5

In The Pope's Words

During his General Audience this past Wednesday Pope Francis reflected on the fourth beatitude, "Blessed are those who hunger and thirst for justice, for they shall be satisfied". The words "hunger and thirst" speak to "crucial, daily needs"; while the term "justice" refers to "a thirst in the heart of human beings, an inner thirst, an inner hunger, an inner restlessness for God". This longing is found even "in those who are most corrupt, and furthest from goodness", even if it is hidden "under the ruins of deception and error". It is the Holy Spirit that keeps up this longing within us.

Exercise Common Sense Regarding the Coronavirus Disease 2019

During this period of heightened awareness with respect to COVID-19 (Coronavirus) we ask that each parishioner exercise common sense and discretion when deciding on whether to attend Mass or a Parish function. It is each parishioner's personal responsibility to protect themselves, and be mindful of protecting others. The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) had stated that older adults and people who have severe underlying chronic medical conditions like heart or lung disease or diabetes seem to be at higher risk for developing more serious complications from COVID-19 illness. These older people, who are at higher risk, are encouraged to avoid crowds as much as possible. We do not wish to discourage anyone from attending Mass or receiving the sacraments, but we do ask that everyone educate themselves as best possible, and give careful consideration to their health and any underlying conditions which may put them at risk, and the health of others, and remain home if necessary in order to protect themselves. To learn more about COVID-19 and how to protect yourself, please visit the CDC's web page:
