From Fr. Mike's Desk

It is not easy to work for God; in fact, as it appears in today's readings it is quite difficult. The Prophet Ezekiel was sent to speak to those who rebelled against God, and he is told by God that they are: "Hard of face and obstinate of heart are they whom I am sending you." You can almost imagine Ezekiel saying to God, thank you may I have another sir! The prophet was not given an easy duty, but God entrusted it to him regardless of its outcome, because God wants to give the rebels one more chance to return to Him. As we read, "...whether they heed or resist...they shall know that a prophet has been among them."

Paul in his Second letter to the Corinthians, tells us about the thorn of the flesh that he had to deal with during his life. While many have speculated that this thorn could have been anything from a physical disfigurement to a regular recurrence of malaria which was spreading around the Mediterranean at the time. Some think it might have been partial blindness that he may have suffered when he had the vision of the Risen Christ on the road to Damascus. No one is quite sure as to what it was, and it really does not matter except for the fact that Paul considered it a hindrance in his desire to preach the Gospel even more than he did. While he prayed many times for God to remove this thorn from him, the answer he received from God was, "My grace is sufficient for you, for power is made perfect in weakness." Paul realizes that this weakness allowed him to enter more deeply into prayer, which gave Paul the grace and the strength to carry out his mission. So, like Ezekiel, Paul's service to God was not easy, but like Ezekiel Paul knew God was with him.

Jesus comes to His hometown after performing many miracles, especially the two we read about last weekend. Everywhere Jesus went, He attracted a crowd (some who were believers and some who were curiosity seekers as we saw with the account of the calming of the sea), but it is totally different in Nazareth. The people there are not pleased with the carpenter's son and His accomplishments, in fact, they do not believe in Him at all. After all, they knew Jesus as a child, they lived in the same town with Mary His mother; how could Jesus possibly do all these things they were hearing about? They were not looking at Jesus through the eyes of faith, just through the eyes of their experience of the lad who made His parents go back to Jerusalem because He decided to stay behind at the Temple.

There in Nazareth, as in the Court of the Priests in Jerusalem some three years later, Jesus was not believed, and He could not carry out His mission because of their lack of faith. Yes, the rejection at Nazareth and the betrayal in Jerusalem made Jesus' task quite hard to do, yet He never stopped. Jesus relied on the help of His heavenly Father and the Holy Spirit to carry out His saving mission for all, even those who rebelled and those who refused to believe.

Consider this when it gets tough being a disciple, when the world makes it hard for us to do our part in building the Kingdom of Heaven, and when we see Christians in the Middle East, Africa, and other parts of the world being the targets of terrorists because of their faith. If we, like St. Paul, acknowledge our weaknesses and doubts and offer them in prayer, we too will get closer and closer to God, who will turn our weaknesses into strength and our doubts into confidence and stronger faith. If we realize that at times, we are like Ezekiel being sent into a den of rebels, then we can know that God will be with us so we can do our part, and they will know that a prophet was sent to them. And when your family or your friends do not want to listen to you about Jesus, just hang in there like Jesus did, for while the work is hard, the rewards are out of this world.

On this extended weekend celebrating Independence Day, we celebrate our nation's 248th Birthday. On July 4, 1776, our Founding Fathers through the Declaration of Independence told the whole world that the 13 Colonies no longer belonged to England but were now a new nation the United States of America. As we celebrate this great day, let us continue to ask God to bless our country, watch over it and guide it, protect her from illnesses, all acts of terror and violence, and bless and protect those who are serving her in the military, police, and fire departments, emergency responders, health care workers, and to all who serve the people of this One Nation Under God.

God bless you always and heal you!

Fr. Mike

Next Week's Readings

Fifteenth Sunday in Ordinary Time

July 14, 2024

First Reading - Amos 7:12-15

Psalms - 85:9-10, 11-12, 13-14

Second Reading - Ephesians 1:3-14

Gospel - Mark 6:7-13

Next Week's Gospel Question

In Mark's Gospel you will hear how Jesus sends out the Twelve with instructions to take nothing with them except a single tunic, sandals and a walking stick. Following this instruction takes faith, as the Twelve must rely upon hospitality and God's support for their mission.

Jesus also asks you to spread 'the Good News' to those you meet, without giving up your worldly possessions. If you're not spreading the word, might it be your possessions holding you back?
