From Fr. Mike's Desk

The Parables have been spoken, the people with ears have heard and understood them, and Jesus has told us the many things we can compare to the Kingdom of Heaven. Today's Gospel now tells us that Jesus decided to move on so that others could hear the Good News. Yet, as Jesus is moving on, He receives the news that John the Baptist has been executed. When Jesus hears this, He does not take time to mourn or reflect on the life of His cousin. No, He preaches even more fervently. Perhaps Jesus knows that John's death is a sign that time is likewise short for Him, and He must complete the Public Ministry.

As Jesus preaches, He heals the sick, and spends the whole day with the lost sheep of Israel. The Gospel tells us, "When it was evening, the disciples approached him and said, 'This is a deserted place and it is already late; dismiss the crowds so that they can go to the villages and buy food for themselves.' Jesus said to them, 'There is no need for them to go away; give them some food yourselves.' But they said to him, 'Five loaves and two fish are all we have!' Then he said, 'Bring them here to me.' Taking the five loaves and the two fish, and looking up to heaven, he said the blessing, broke the loaves, and gave them to the disciples, who in turn gave them to the crowds. They all ate and were satisfied...".

Jesus is doing much more than feeding the crowd for just one night. What He is doing is completing His teaching on the Kingdom of Heaven. After speaking about the Kingdom, He is giving them a look at what life will be like in the Kingdom, where there will be no want or hunger. He is giving them a glimpse of the food of heaven which is not the loaves and fish, but the Body and Blood of Christ. John, in his Gospel, sees this miracle as such a great foreshadowing of the Eucharist, that when it comes to his account of the Last Supper he does not include the Words of Institution because he knows we know them and he hopes you will see the Eucharist in today's miracle.

The Eucharist is indeed the foretaste of greater things to come. It is the food that helps us avoid sin and spiritual death, it is the food that helps us work for and build the Kingdom of Heaven, and it is Jesus, Himself, who is feeding us because of His great love for us.

Let us pray; Lord Jesus, you give us Your Body and Blood in the Eucharist as a sign that even now we share your life. May we come to possess it completely in the kingdom where you live forever and ever. Amen.

God bless you always and thank you for supporting St. Edward's

Fr. Mike

What is Divine Mercy

It’s “love’s second name,” as John Paul II said. It’s a particular kind of love, a particular mode of love when it encounters suffering, poverty, brokenness, and sin. Divine Mercy is when God’s love meets us and helps us in the midst of our suffering and sin.

Fr. Mike's Letter for Week 19 of the Corona Virus Crisis

The following letter was posted last week, prior to The 19th Sunday in Ordinary Time, on the St. Edward's website as well as on Flocknote. The letter is reprinted here for those of you who do not have internet access.

Fifty-one years ago, this month, the Apollo 11 astronauts landed on the Moon. Neil Armstrong and Buzz Aldrin were the first of about 24 people to set foot on a foreign body in the Solar System. This great event fulfilled the promise of President John Kennedy, who said at the beginning of the 1960's that America would land on the Moon by the end of the decade. Ironically, it occurred during the Presidency of Richard Nixon, the man Kennedy defeated in 1960. I remember that we were on vacation in a resort called Shapanack which was in Greene County in the Catskills. We all gathered in one of the common rooms to watch on a Black and White television, with very poor reception, this marvelous and historic event. Later that night when all the excitement was over, I got sick, catching the virus that was going around the area that week. So, as a result I will never forget that night.

The Moon landing held great promise and a future where more wonderful events would happen. As you may know, many of the items we use today came from the Space Program. Items that were invented so the astronauts could get from here to other places. For example, computers that we take for granted had to be made smaller to fit in a space craft. There were inventions like Velcro, used to make objects stay in place, so they would not float about the capsule in the weightlessness of space. However, more came from the Moon landing than inventions, along with the landing came the idea that we can conquer anything. If we could go across space and land on the Moon, what could stop us from doing anything? Well of course science and reality have showed us that we still have a great deal to learn, and the more we discover, the more we realize we do not know. This is not a bad thing! Why, because it spurs us on to learn new things, and the more we learn about something, the more our horizons expand, and we learn more about other things.

More importantly the more we learn about the created universe, the more we learn about ourselves, and the more we learn about God and all the other wonders He created. The more we see in the universe, the more we understand God's complex plan for our creation and our survival. Hopefully, we can conclude what the Book of Genesis pointed out thousands of years ago, that God is the beginning and end caused of everything, especially us. As we see in the Book of Revelation, Jesus tells us that He is the Alpha and the Omega, the beginning and the end.

As we go through these troubled times, we may believe that God has abandoned us, or that God does not care about us. This is not true. God is guiding the people in health care, so they can take the right steps in developing better treatments, and eventually coming up with a vaccine. It seems like a long time has passed, but in terms of breakthroughs it has only been a few months. We know that we are not over this, and that we still have a long road ahead, but never think that God is not here with us. We can do our part by following distancing rules, wearing masks in a crowd or inside a store, etc., and following the guidelines. Do we like this no, but will it help us, most likely yes? As for the unrest we are facing as a country we need to pray, we need to do our part to insure that we are living out the Gospel, and that we know and believe that all lives matter, for all people are made in the image and likeness of God. We must work together to get through these difficult times of sickness and tension, and most of all not give into fear!

We close with the words of Neil Armstrong as he set foot on the Moon. "That's one small step for [a] man, one giant leap for mankind"

God bless you always!

WORKING TOGETHER TO MAKE A DIFFERENCE
BY TOUCHING HEARTS AND CHANGING LIVES.

In April of 2015, the Joseph J. Gorman #5091 Columbiettes began their work with a small body of just twenty-one Catholic women. With the cooperative efforts of this extraordinary group, we began our journey by reaching out to our parish, our community, the dioceses and to each other...and then broadened our scope by supporting young seminarians overseas. Wherever there is need, we offer help. Since our inception we have accomplished so much, and continue to do so. The causes and activities we support are based upon the Mission of the Columbiettes, guided by the precepts of faith, hope and charity.

The Columbiettes are an ordinary group of Catholic women doing extraordinary things.

SUPPORT LOCAL BUSINESSES

Over the years local businesses have supported St. Edward's Parish during fund raisers, and have been a big help in keeping our community going. Please consider patronizing the local businesses by ordering a meal, or purchasing goods or services, rather than ordering on line. These local businesses have been there for us over the years, so let's help them now so we'll have a future together. You can find many local businesses in the directory of the website for the Syosset Woodbury Chamber of Commerce. Take a look, and help support ONE business of your choice.

Saint of the Day - St. Andrew the Scot

St. Andrew the Scot was the brother of St. Brigid the younger, born in Ireland near the beginning of the ninth century to a noble family. Both Andrew and his sister studied under St. Donatus. Andrew even accompanied Donatus on his pilgrimage to Italy and there Andrew earned his titles of Andrew of Tuscany and Andrew of Fiesole. There is a miracle reported of his healing the daughter of a nobleman while he was in Fiesole. Many other miracles were performed by him over the course of his deaconship in Fiesole: casting out demons, healing the blind, and the sick. During the forty-seven years of his episcopate, Andrew served Donatus faithfully, and was encouraged to restore the church of San Martino di Mensola and to found a monastery there. Andrew is commended for his austerity of life and boundless charity to the poor. He died shortly after his master, St. Donatus. His sister was allegedly conducted from Ireland by an angel to assist at his deathbed. His body is buried at St Martin's, the church he restored. When at a later date his remains were exhumed, his body was found still preserved. His relics remain to be venerated in that church.

Prayer to St. Michael the Archangel

St. Michael the Archangel, defend us in battle, be our protection against the wickedness and snares of the devil.
May God rebuke him we humbly pray; and do thou,
O Prince of the Heavenly host, by the power of God,
cast into hell Satan and all the evil spirits who prowl about the world seeking the ruin of souls.
Amen.
