From Fr. Mike's Desk

Who made us? God made us. Who is God? God is the Supreme Being, infinitely perfect, who made all things and keeps them in existence. Why did God make us? God made us to show forth His goodness and to share with us His everlasting happiness in heaven. Is there only one God? Yes, there is only one God. How many persons are there in God? In God, there are three Divine Persons: The Father, The Son, and The Holy Spirit.

Ok, enough of the Baltimore Catechism lesson, but for those of us who began our Religious Education with that Catechism, it was a trip down memory lane. However, we should keep in mind that the Catechism tells us a great deal of what we are celebrating today; God as God truly is! Granted, we do this every day, but this Trinity Sunday reminds us in a distinct way the true nature of the One God in Three Divine Persons. Our God exists in a sense in a community, and of course, there is only one God, not three. While the Three Divine Persons are distinct from one another (in that The Father is not The Son, The Son is not The Father, The Holy Spirit is not The Son, nor is The Spirit The Father, etc., etc.), they are still all the One God. All three persons are: powerful, all-knowing, omnipresent, and perfectly equal. (Right now, the computer I am writing this letter on is having a tough time figuring out what I am saying as the grammar check keeps coming on, but what do computers know?)

Why is this important to know, or at least have an idea about, as to most of us, this is completely confusing. It is important because we must remember that we are made in the image and likeness of God, so the more we know about God, the more we get to know about ourselves! Now comes the question: how did we come to know about God existing in Three Divine Persons? Only through Jesus Christ! The people of the Old Testament did not know God in this way; it is only through the Divine Revelation given to us in the Words and Actions of Jesus that people began to understand that there was more to God than they ever knew! The Apostles and the early Church wondered how Jesus could die on the Cross, rise from the dead, and appear to us? The answer they received is only through the power of God. For when they saw the Risen Lord, they realized that He was more than one who was sent by God, but was indeed God Himself. They began to understand the words from John's Gospel when Jesus told them that He and the Father were one. They began to understand the words that Jesus spoke to Mary Magdalene, on that first Easter Sunday, "I am going to my Father and your Father, to my God and your God." They could see that Jesus had a totally different relationship with God, for He is God!

Along with this came the question, how can Jesus be 100% God and 100% Human? How did God bring this about? This happens, of course, through the actions of the Holy Spirit that led to understanding that there was more to God, that He does indeed exist in the community, the Trinity of Father, Son, and Holy Spirit.

Now, back to what was asked at the beginning of this letter. Why did God make us? Again, God made us to show forth His goodness and to share with us His Eternal Life and Love. God would not let anything interfere with this desire. Even when Original Sin entered the Human Family, He would not stop this goal from happening. Thus, the Father sent the Son to save us and restore us. When the Son's earthly mission was accomplished, He and the Father sent the Holy Spirit upon the Church so that we can constantly feel the presence of the Son who continually leads us back to the Father. Now, which person of the Blessed Trinity is at work in achieving our Salvation? The answer is, of course, all Three! All of God is actively at work in our Salvation. God loves us so much that He will not allow anything to get in the way of our salvation.

God bless you always, Father, Son, and Holy Spirit

Care for Our Common Home

Christian spirituality proposes an alternative understanding of the quality of life, and encourages a prophetic and contemplative lifestyle, one capable of deep enjoyment free of the obsession with consumption. We need to take up an ancient lesson, found in different religious traditions and also in the Bible. It is the conviction that "less is more". A constant flood of new consumer goods can baffle the heart and prevent us from cherishing each thing and each moment. To be serenely present to each reality, however small it may be, opens us to much greater horizons of understanding and personal fulfilment. Christian spirituality proposes a growth marked by moderation and the capacity to be happy with little. It is a return to that simplicity which allows us to stop and appreciate the small things, to be grateful for the opportunities which life affords us, to be spiritually detached from what we possess, and not to succumb to sadness for what we lack. This implies avoiding the dynamic of dominion and the mere accumulation of pleasures.

- Pope Francis, Encyclical Letter - Laudato Si' - Care For Our Common Home (2015) Sec. 222

Babel, Nehemiah & Algorithms - Pope Leo's New Encyclical on AI

What do the Tower of Babel, the biblical figure Nehemiah, and algorithms have in common? They're all discussed — along with integral human development, the technocratic paradigm and Catholic social teaching — in Pope Leo XIV's first encyclical, "Magnifica Humanitas: On Safeguarding the Human Person in the Time of Artificial Intelligence." The highly anticipated text, signed by the pope on May 15 and released May 25, invokes the wisdom of the Church's social teaching as a framework for shaping AI amid rapid technological advances, a fractured global landscape and accelerating threats to human life and dignity. Here are just some of the key elements discussed in the document -

In Magnifica Humanitas, Leo writes that "it is not possible to provide a single, comprehensive definition of AI." "What can be stated, however, is that we must avoid the misconception of equating this type of 'intelligence' with that of human beings," he continued. "These systems merely imitate certain functions of human intelligence. In doing so, they often surpass human intelligence in speed and computational capacity, offering tangible benefits across many fields. Yet this power remains entirely tied to data processing."

— Babel, Tower of Babel: Described in Genesis 11:1-9, the city and tower built by the nations of the earth in the valley of Shinar, after Noah and his family survived the flood. Because the nations, which spoke the same language, undertook the project in human pride, the Lord confused their speech, leading to division and dispersion across the earth. In section seven of his encyclical, Leo uses this example to show "the limits of any effort that, however grandiose, arises from self-affirmation, sacrifices human dignity for efficiency, and aspires to reach heaven without God's blessing."

— Nehemiah: Both the name of the governor of Judah and the book found in the Bible. In about 444 B.C., Nehemiah was granted permission from Persian King Artaxerxes I to return to Jerusalem — where some Jews, following the sixth-century B.C. Babylonian exile, had begun to resettle — in order to rally and direct the people in a shared restoration of their ancient city. Unlike Babel, said Leo in his encyclical, this effort under Nehemiah (and later under Ezra) placed "God at the center" and prioritized "communion" and "rebuilding relationships" over "uniformity."

— Algorithm: In essence, a routine, step-by-step process for accomplishing a task. AI algorithms, which are more complex, are designed to cover multiple "what ifs?" in a given situation, and to learn from data on which they are trained. Leo cautions in his encyclical that AI algorithms can be used to exert dominance over the vulnerable and over humanity itself, while eroding responsibility and empathy. "From this follows a simple but compelling consequence: we cannot consider AI to be morally neutral," he writes. "In reality, every technical tool embodies choices and priorities through what it measures, ignores and optimizes, and how it classifies people and situations."

— Technocratic paradigm: A term also used by Francis in his 2015 encyclical Laudato Si' to describe a worldview in which humanity employs technology with the guiding aim of "possession, mastery and transformation," rather than the humble, grateful stewardship of God's abundant gifts.

— Political realism, realpolitik: Political realism is a political theory that prioritizes power over morals and ethics, effectively holding that "might makes right." In international relations, realpolitik (a term first popularized in the 19th century) also privileges power, as well as national interest, over other principles and considerations, framing it as pragmatic politics. In his encyclical, Leo warns that both philosophies — the latter of which he condemns as "truly irresponsible" — work to present war as inevitable, thereby precluding genuine peace based on justice and charity.
