Julie,

On behalf of the Post-Dispatch, I wanted to thank you for the fantastic work you did to make our move a success. As I've learned, sometimes things happen during a move outside of anyone's control. When that happened to us you really rose to the occasion and overcame a series of exceedingly challenging obstacles. Not only that, you managed through these obstacles with a calm, professional and upbeat manner that helped keep employees, movers, vendors and building staff on task and focused on their individual roles. If you ever were stressed, we never saw it. I would gladly and wholeheartedly recommend you to any business looking for relocation services. I hope we never leave our new office space but I know who we'll call if we do. Thanks again.
