Pristine Waters. Immaculate Salmon.

Your chef-d'oeuvre demands the best - and it starts with Faroe Islands salmon.

Isolated in the North Atlantic, the Faroe Islands boast some of the most pristine aquatic environments in the world. Strong fjord currents and oxygen-rich glacial waters give rise to salmon with a flawless fat line, perfect texture, and world-renowned flavor. From the Faroes' centuries-long tradition comes an unbelievable culinary experience.

Do seafood fearlessly with our Faroe Islands salmon.

REFRESH HOW YOU SEE FROZEN-AT-SOURCE

The advantages are as clear as the Icelandic waters. Frozen-at-source is often safer, of higher quality and consistency, more readily available, and price-stable, while also providing greater flexibility and control. All those factors combine to give you what your customers crave, and the efficiency and profitability your operation needs.

FROZEN-AT-SOURCE

FRESH

FOOD SAFETY	Flash-frozen immediately after catch with the latest technology. Stops bacterial growth in minutes.	Refrigerated or iced on-board ships for hours or days. Does not completely stop bacterial growth.
QUALITY & CONSISTENCY	Consistently frozen to lock in taste and texture – week after week	Uneven refrigeration temperatures. Uncertain transportation conditions.
AVAILABILITY & PRICING	Consistent access to deep selection of popular species, year-round. Less expensive and more price stable.	Unlikely to receive consistent supply of the most popular species year-round. Price volatility and premium price tag.
WASTE & PROFIT	More stable, allowing for flexible portioning each day. Eliminates food and cost waste.	Highly perishable, even when refrigerated. Creates food and cost waste if not used promptly.

ICELANDIC ORIGINS

Nurtured by the pristine waters that cradle Iceland, our fish embody a rich tradition of fishing that runs deep in Icelandic culture. Drawing from this legacy, we've developed sourcing practices that revolve around sustainability, responsibly procuring fish from our abundant fishing territories. This commitment to preserving our marine resources is intertwined with our dedication to delivering excellence to your plate.
