

STOP NEWSOM'S PARTISAN GERRYMANDERING ATTACK

Governor Gavin Newsom has made clear he's willing to sacrifice one of California's most important democratic reforms — our independent Citizens Redistricting Commission — for raw political gain. His plan to dismantle the independent Commission is a transparent power grab designed to gerrymander congressional districts in the Democrats' favor, eliminating at least five Republican congressional seats — and putting all nine at risk.

Established by an overwhelming majority of California voters, the Citizens Redistricting Commission was created to take redistricting power away from politicians and put it in the hands of an independent Commission — ensuring fair elections, transparent maps, and accountability with voters.

The Governor and Democratic leaders want to remove our constitutional safeguards and strip voter protections that ban maps that favor incumbents or political parties.

If they succeed, Californians won't just lose a fair process. We'll lose our voice. We'll lose trust. We'll lose the ability to hold Washington accountable.

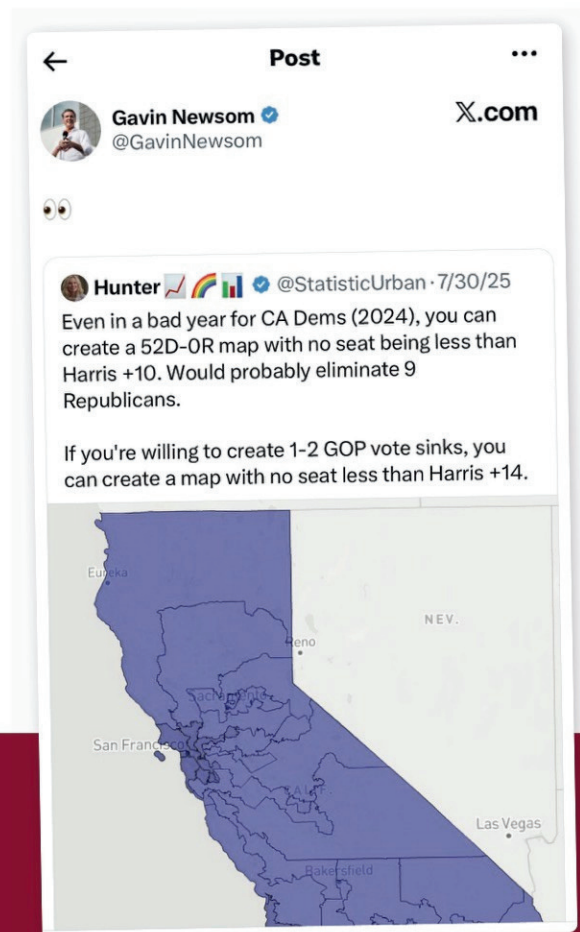

And in 2026, we won't have a California House of Representatives delegation to protect.

This isn't about one cycle — it puts the integrity of California's entire electoral system at risk.

We must fight back now. If we don't, the Governor's partisan gerrymandering will hand over the power to choose our representatives back to the politicians, the very thing voters overwhelmingly rejected.

WHAT'S AT STAKE

- Up to 6 Republican-held seats eliminated
- Loss of independent voter trust
- New maps for 2026, 2028, and 2030 that lay the groundwork for permanent one-party rule
- End of competitive House races in California
- Legal precedent for future redistricting abuse
