PLASTIC LEG TIPS REPLACED

Rick Rodgers, Karen Krieger, Jay Alberts and Joe Kwiatek worked on July 15th & 16th to replace all the plastic leg tips on each and every outdoor and indoor pool deck, chair and matching tables.

The team worked under extreme heat conditions and deserve much tanks.

GUEST PASS VIOLATIONS

This is a note that makes us sad to have to write, since the overwhelming majority abide by the guest pass rules. But unfortunately, recently we had to send violation/collection letters to two different residents who did not abide by them. Simply put they failed to pay, these incidences were both confirmed by both of our electronic systems, our FOB log and our surveillance cameras. Please do not embarrass yourselves, pay for your guest upon entrance to the outdoor or indoor pool areas. Thank you

POOL INSPECTION

On Wednesday, July 3rd at about 12 noon the Bucks County Department of Health conducted an unannounced inspection of our outdoor pool facilities.

We were fully complicate in all 37 items on their check list.

Frankly, that is not that easy, given the large number of rules and regulations that need to be followed.

This should make all residents of Villas at Five Ponds feel good that their outdoor facilities are safe and up to code. Enjoy!

MINUTE TAKER STILL NEEDED

We are still looking for a volunteer to takes minutes at our board meetings. I sure would be great if someone in our community would help us out with this task.

If interested please contact Larry Nodiff 215-327-7593.

XANDER SCHAUFFELE, GOLFER OF 2024?

■ JAKE SAMSON, THE VILLA'S VOICE GUEST SPORTS REPORTER

IT WAS ONE OR TWO ARTICLES BACK where I was crowning Scottie Scheffler as the potential Tiger Woods replacement to the PGA Tour. So then what happened? Of course, Xander Schauffele won 2 majors in the last 2 months and he has risen up to #2 in the world directly behind Scheffler. For those that aren't huge golf fans, there are 4 major golf tournaments each year, each testing in very different ways. The Masters is in April, PGA Championship in May, US Open in June and The Open (sometimes called the British open) in July. After plenty of "can't get it done" moments, Schauffele was in the winners circle at the PGA Championship in Kentucky, and then two months later in The Open in Scotland.

Schauffele is a 30 year old American golfer who grew up in San Diego, CA who played at Long Beach before transferring to San Diego State University. Despite being born in the US, his father is originally from Germany and mother is originally from Taiwan, which created a unique upbringing for Xander and his siblings. Along with that, Xander's father Stefan was his swing coach after he built his name for himself as a golf professional in both California and Hawaii. However, in 2023 Schauffele made a switch to Chris Como as his coach, a tough call dropping his father from anything swing-related. However, with this successful 2024, it seems to be a decision that worked out rather well (for both him and his dad).

Like I mentioned earlier, the majors are what make good players turn into great players. Schauffele was often in the discussion of "best player to never win a major" if you go back just 4-5 months time. Despite 6 top-5 finishes including 2 runners-up performances, Xander wasn't the guy to break through. Until he was. Xander broke through with a lip-in putt on the 72nd hole at the PGA Championship in Kentucky, winning by 1 over Bryson Dechambeau. Then, just a couple weeks ago, Xander won The Open with a phenomenal, steady -6 final round to win by two shots.

Another fun fact is Xander is actually the most recent Gold Medal holder for Golf in the Olympics! Xander was on the short list (not based off of him previously winning, but off of his good play) to make the trip to Paris representing the USA. He is one of the 4 Americans making the trip over there and based on his hot play, should be viewed as one of the favorites to bring home Gold for his respective country. Although not flashy, you can tell that Xander is the perfect example of the steady golfer. There have been plenty of athletes that I could compare Xander to, but Chase Utley is the first one that comes to mind. Fantastic fundamentals, doing a bunch of things above average, and really lets his play do the talking. We will see how the rest of the golf season plays out (which encompasses the Olympics and the playoffs) but Xander has certainly put his hat in the ring as golfer of the year.

THE OTHER HALF OF MY SOUL BY BAHIA ABRAMS

■ SHARYN POLSKY, BOOK REVIEWER

RAYNA IS FROM A WORLD of privilege. She lives with her parents in a wealthy, tight knit Orthodox Jewish Syrian community in Brooklyn. She wants to break away from the constraints put upon her by her parents and their way of life. She does not want to go to school in New York. She applies to the University of Maryland to study journalism. Her parents believe she should remain a virgin until she marries. She is warned to stick to her own kind.

Rami is a poor Syrian Shi'ite Muslim, the minority in Syria. He is approached by agents of the government and is offered full tuition and housing in America at the University of Maryland. They single him out because he has excellent grades. He must major in Spanish and philosophy. In return he will owe them seven years working for the organization that sponsored him. Rami's parents caution him that America is a "horrible country that has so many Jews. Even more than the Jews in Israel. "Everywhere there is corruption, greed, violence, sex, drugs liquor and wild parties".

They meet in class at the University of Maryland, drawn to each other by their shared Syrian culture. Against all odds they fall deeply in love.

They encounter prejudice and deep disapproval by both sets of parents.

When Rami chose to accept the opportunity to go to a college in America unbeknownst to him, he made a bargain with the devil. His benefactors were the radical terrorist group, al-Shahid sanctioned by the Syrian government,

He was to learn Spanish because he ultimately was being groomed to take over their arms for drugs operation in South America. They wanted Rami to obtain information about a secret project that one of his professors is working on.

These terrorists would threaten his and Rayna's life if he did not do their bidding.

Rami is obliged to go to South America where he sees the corruption first hand. He barely escapes with his life.

There are many nail biting chapters that ensue. You don't know how Rami and Rayna will escape with their lives intact.

This book is a page turner that you can't put down until the end with an unexpected turn of events.

This book is written by an author who writes from her own life experiences being an Orthodox Jew, historical events, current happenings, and actual places where she has lived or visited. She grew up with Syrian culture, language, food and music.

I highly recommend this book. It is the story of culture clash overcome by the power of unconditional love.

MONUMENTS AND MYTHS: THE AMERICA OF SCULPTORS AUGUSTUS SAINT-GAUDENS AND DANIEL CHESTER FRENCH

Through January 5, 2022 • Martin Gallery

AUGUSTUS SAINT-GAUDENS (1848–1907) and Daniel Chester French (1850–1931) were the pre-eminent American sculptors of the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries. As friendly rivals, they transformed sculpture in the United States, producing some of the country's most recognizable public artworks, including French's Seated Abraham Lincoln in the Lincoln Memorial in Washington, D.C. and Saint-Gaudens's Diana, which graced the top of Madison Square Garden in New York. With an aesthetic of remarkable formal elegance, Gaudens and French created a picture of national ambition rooted in conceptions of liberty, grandeur, and common cause. These narratives of an ascendant America, however, reflect only a partial vision of the nation. Rife with the potential for multiple meanings and contested histories, the artworks in this exhibition encourage us to question the stories that public art tells and to explore what—and whose—histories remain hidden from view.

Drawn primarily from the collections of the artists' historic homes and studios, Monuments and Myths is the first exhibition to bring together Saint-Gaudens and French in this way, probing their intersecting biographies and examining the affinities that made both of them leaders in their field. As we collectively refocus our attention on the role and meaning of historic monuments, it is a timely moment to ponder the continuing power of these artists' sculptures and to examine how it has shaped—and continues to inform—our understanding of America.

standing of America.

Monuments and Myths: The America of Sculptors Augustus Saint-Gaudens and Daniel Chester French is co-organized by the American Federation of Arts, Chesterwood, a site of the National Trust for Historic Preservation, and the Saint-Gaudens Memorial in partnership with Saint-Gaudens National Historic Park.

COLD TURKEY: A VERY FUNNY NORMAN LEAR COMEDY CLASSIC FROM 1971

It's political, religious, and family value undertones reflect even today with our current national issues.

DESPERATELY NEEDING MONEY, in the depressed town of Eagle Rock, Reverend Brooks (Dick Van Dyke) spearheads his community's effort to rise to the Cold Turkey challenge.

The Valiant Tobacco Company—owned by Edward Everett Horton, and marketed by the late, great, Bob Newhart as the ad executive—has promised a $25,000 cash prize to any town in America that can quit smoking for 30 days.

Van Dyke leads the community in this Battle of the Butts, hoping to become a local hero in the process and Newhart shows up to undermine his efforts, as this wicked comedy kicks into high gear.

Appearances by old favorites Tom Poston, Bob & Ray, Vincent Gardenia, and Jean Stapleton add to the humor throughout.

Watch it FREE and without commercials on PLUTO, available through your Xfinity subscription. Access it with your Voice remote, simply say "Cold Turkey" and prepare to laugh!

Singles News!

FIVE PONDS SINGLES ■ MERRYL PELBERG

THE FIVE PONDS SINGLES had a fun-filled, interesting past six months. We saw the show "MRS. DOUBTFIRE" at the Academy of Music, the show "TEA FOR 3" at the Act II Theater in Ambler, enjoyed HI-TEA at Tillie Mints Tea Room, experienced a wonderful day at the SCULPTURE GARDENS with lunch at the famous restaurant Rats, and went to a WINE AND CHEESE TASTING at Rosebank Winery in Newtown. The year ended with a delicious closing luncheon at Toscana Restaurant.

We are already planning for the fall with many new and interesting day trips starting with a guided TROLLEY TOUR OF VALLEY FORGE NATIONAL PARK with lunch following on Sunday, September 8, 2024.

The Five Ponds Singles is open again to new members. If you are single and would like to get together with good friends and neighbors to enjoy interesting and fun activities, come out and join us. Our first meeting will be on Wednesday, September 4 at 7 PM in the Clubhouse Multi-Purpose Room. If you are planning on joining the Singles and would like to go on the Valley Forge Trolley Tour, please contact Meryll Pelberg, 215-443-8588 or Dianne Geoghegan, 347-387-5403 so we can get your contact information and sign you up for the trip.
