abandomment is being given up on; withdrew from; emotionally deserted or separated from; a feeling of being "left behind" in a non-physical form. Anxiety: A generalized feeling of uneasiness and foreboding; a fear of the unknown; fear without a subject (e.g. she feels anxious and fearful all the time for n apparent reason). Betrayal: Betrayed is to have your trust broken, to be deserted or hurt by a trusted one. Betrayal of another is to be unfaithful in guarding or fulfiling a trust; to dislay and violate a confidence, to desert someone who trusts you. Betrayal of the self is to break integrity; act against one's morals, to abuse the body or sou bitterness Bitterness: A harsh, disagreeable or cynical attitude. Being angry or resentful because of hurtful or unfair experiences. Bilaming: Being Blamed is to be held responsible; accused, or held guilty for something. Blaming another is to hold responsible, accuse, find fault with. Putting responsibility on someone or something dest or avoid taking responsibility is on self-abuse, depression, etc. Conflict Internal Conflict is a mental and entional struggle responsibility. This is a key emotion in creating a victim mentality and can cause a deterioration opersonal power. Blaming the self is finding fault with oneself, which can lead to feelings of self-abuse, depression, etc. Conflict Internal Conflict is a mental and entional struggle responsibility. This is a key emotion in creating a victim mentality and can cause a deterioration on personal power. Blaming the self is finding fault with oneself, which can lead to feelings of self-abuse, depression, etc. Conflict Internal Conflict is to fight; to disagree or be disagreeable; to struggle or battle against; to antagonize. Prolonged strife or struggle or not to kee the new job) External Conflict is to fight; to disagree or be disagreeable; to struggle or battle against; to antagonize. Prolonged strife or struggle or hard the against to a managenetic prolonge and the propertion of the self-abuse, because the s anxiety Anxiety: A generalized feeling of uneasiness and foreboding; a fear of the unknown; fear without a subject (e.g. she feels anxious and fearful all the time for n apparent reason). Betrayal: Betrayal: setrayed is to have your trust broken, to be deserted or hurt by a trusted one. Betrayal of another is to be unfaithful in guarding or fulfilling a trust; to disloyal or violate a confidence, to desert someone who trusts you. Betrayal of the self is to break integrity; act against one's morals, to abuse the body or sou bitterness. Bitterness: A harsh, disagreeable or cynical attitude. Being angry or resentful because of hurtful or unfair experiences. Blaming: Being Blamed is to be held responsible; accused; or held guilty for something. Blaming another is to hold responsible; accuse; find fault with. Putting responsibility on someone or something plas to avoid taking responsibility. This is a key emotion in creating a victim mentality and can cause a deterioration of personal power. Blaming the self is inding fault with neself, which can lead to feelings of self-abuse, depression, etc. Conflict Conflict themsal conflict is a mental and emotional struggle within the self, arising from opposition, and many provided themsal conflict as a mental and emotional struggle or battle against; to antagonize. Prolonged strife or struggle, e.g., She and her ex-husband experience continual conflict about custody of their children). Conflusion: A disoriented feeling, foggy thinking; chaos; lack of distinctness or clearness; perplexity; bewilderment; a disturbed mental state. Creative insecurity: Feeling unsafer or untrusting the self about the creation or development of any priscal). A response to or expression of helplessness. A physical sensation felf in the throat, chest and/or diaphragm. Often becomes trapped when one does not allow himmerself to cry (i.e. suppres this reaction or stuffing it down). Defensiveness: Defensiveness: Defensiveness: Defensiveness: Defensiveness: Despar: A complete loss of hope,	abandonment	Abandonment: Physical abandonment is being left alone; left behind or deserted (this is the type of abandonment that we most often see in childhood). Emotional abandonment is being given up on; withdrew from; emotionally deserted or separated from; a feeling of being "left behind" in a non-physical form.
apparent reason). betrayal Betrayal: Betrayel is to have your trust broken, to be deserted or hurt by a trusted one. Betrayal of another is to be unfaithful in guarding or fulfilling a trust; to disloyal or violate a confidence, to desert someone who trusts you. Betrayal of the self is to break integrity, act against one's mortals, to abuse the body or sou bitterness Blarning: Being Blamed is to be held responsible, accussed; or held guilty for something. Blarning another is to hold responsible; accusse; find fault with. Putting responsibility in or someon or something else to avoid taking responsibility. This is a key emotion in creating a victim mentality and can cause a deterioration or personal power. Blarning the self is finding fault with oneself, which can lead to feelings of self-abuse, depression, etc. Conflict. Internal Conflict is a mental and emotional struggle within the self, arising from opposing demands or impulses, (e.g., He was feeling conflicted about whether or not to take the new job) External Conflict is to fight; to disagree or be disagreeable; to struggle or battle against; to antagonize. Prolonged strife or struggle, (e.g., She and her ex-husband experience continual conflict about outstody of their children). creative insecurity creative insecurity. Feeling unsafe or untrusting the self about the creation or development of anything relationships, family, health, money, career and/or and endeavors. A feeling of insecurity that arises and blocks the creative process. (e.g., writer's bupked when one does not allow him/herself to cry (i.e. suppres this reaction or stuffing it down). defensiveness defensiveness defensiveness depression Defensiveness: A physical sensation felt in the throat, chest and/or disphragm. Often becomes person polysical, A response to or expression or suffering (emotional or physical). A response to or expression or suffering (emotional or physical). A response to or expression or suffering (emotional or physical). A response to or expersion or suffering	anger	Anger: A strong displeasure and belligerence aroused by a real or supposed wrong; wrath. Anger is often used as a cover-up or form of denial for emotions of hur or fear.
disloyal or violate a confidence, to desert someone who trusts you. Betrayal of the self is to break integrity, act against one's morals, to abuse the body or sou bitterness. Bitterness: A harsh, disagreeable or cynical attitude. Being angry or resentful because of hurtful or unfair experiences. Bitterness: A harsh, disagreeable or cynical attitude. Being angry or resentful because of hurtful or unfair experiences. Bitterness: A parsh, disagreeable or cynical attitude. Being angry or resentful because of hurtful or unfair experiences. Bitterness: A parsh, disagreeable or cynical attitude. Being angry or resentful because of hurtful or unfair experiences. Conflict internal Conflict is a mental and emotional struggle within the self, arising from opposing demands or impulses. (e.g. He was feeling conflicted about whether or not to take the new job) External Conflict is to fight; to disagree or be disagreeable; to struggle, (e.g. She and her ex-husband experience conflict of struggle, (e.g. She and her ex-husband experience conflict and transplant of the struggle or battle against; to antagonize. Prolonged strife or struggle, (e.g. She and her ex-husband experience conflict and transplant of a struggle or battle against; to antagonize. Prolonged strife or struggle, (e.g. She and her ex-husband experience conflict and transplant of anything-relationships, family, health, money, career and/or and endeavors. A feeling of insecurity that arises and blocks the creative process. (e.g. writer's block). Crying: The (often) involuntary act of expressing a strong emotion; a response to pain or suffering femotional or physical). A response to or expression of helplessness. A physical sensation felt in the throat, chest and/or diaphragm. Often becomes trapped when one does not allow himherself to cry (i.e. suppression defensiveness: A state of resisting attack or protecting oneself; being sensitive to the threat of criticism or injury to one's ego; being on guard against real or imagined threats to one's person, physica		Anxiety: A generalized feeling of uneasiness and foreboding; a fear of the unknown; fear without a subject (e.g. she feels anxious and fearful all the time for no apparent reason).
Blaming: Being Blamed is to be held responsible; accused; or held guilty for something. Blaming another is to hold responsible; accuse; find fault with. Putting responsibility on someone or something else to avoid taking responsibility. This is a key emotion in creating a victim mentality and can cause a deterioration or personal power. Blaming the self is finding fault with nesself, which can lead to feelings of self-abuse, depression, etc. Conflict: Internal Conflict is a mental and emotional struggle within the self, arising from opposing demands or impulses. (e.g. He was feeling conflicted about whether or not to take the new job External Conflict is to fight, to disagree or be disagreeable; to struggle or battle against; to antagonize. Prolonged strife or struggle, (e.g. She and her ex-husband experience continual conflict about custody of the cities of struggle or battle against; to antagonize. Prolonged strife or struggle, (e.g. She and her ex-husband experience continual conflict about custody of the cities of continual conflict about custody of the cities of continual conflict about custody of the cities of continual conflict about custody of creative insecurity. Feeling unsafe or untrusting the self about the creation or development of anything- relationships, family, health, money, career and/or and endeavors. A feeling of insecurity that arises and blocks the creative process. (e.g. writer's block). Crying: The (often) involuntary act of expressing a strong emotion; a response to pain or suffering (emotional or physical). A response to or expression of helplessness. A physical sensation left in the throat, chest and/or dalphragm. Other bowes trapped when one does not allow him/herself to cry (i.e. suppression) and pains treation or stuffing it down). Depression: defensiveness: depression Depression: D		Betrayal: Betrayed is to have your trust broken, to be deserted or hurt by a trusted one. Betrayal of another is to be unfaithful in guarding or fulfilling a trust; to be disloyal or violate a confidence, to desert someone who trusts you. Betrayal of the self is to break integrity; act against one's morals, to abuse the body or soul.
personal power. Blaming the self is finding fault with oneself, which can lead to feelings of self-abuse, depression, etc. Conflict: Internal Conflict is a mental and emotional struggle within the self, arising from opposing demands or impulses. (e.g. He was feeling conflicted about whether or not to take the new job) External Conflict is to fight; to disagree or be disagreeable; to struggle or battle against; to antagonize. Prolonged strife or struggle, (e.g. She and her ex-husband experience continual conflict about custody of their children). Confusion: Confusion: Confus	bitterness	Bitterness: A harsh, disagreeable or cynical attitude. Being angry or resentful because of hurtful or unfair experiences.
conflict whether or not to take the new job) External Conflict is fright; to disagree or be disagreeable; to struggle or battle against, to antagonize. Prolonged strife or struggle, (e.g. She and her ex-husband experience continual conflict about custody of their children). Confusion: A disoriented feeling; toggy thinking; chaos; lack of distinctness or clearness; perplexity; bewilderment; a disturbed mental state. Creative insecurity: Feeling unsafe or untrusting the self about the creation or development of anything-relationships, family, health, money, career and/or art endewors. A feeling of insecurity that arises and blocks the creative process. (e.g. writer's block). Crying: The (often) involuntary act of expressing a strong emotion; a response to pain or suffering (emotional or physical). A response to or expression of helplessness. A physical sensation felt in the throat, chest and/or diaphragm. Often becomes trapped when one does not allow him/herself to cry (i.e. suppressions) this reaction or stuffing it down). defensiveness depression: Defensiveness: A state of resisting attack or protecting oneself; being sensitive to the threat of criticism or injury to one's ego; being on guard against real or imagined threats to one's person, physical and/or emotional. depression: Depression: A state of being sad, gloomy, low in spirits, dejected. Often a secondary emotion caused by "anger turned inward" at the self and feelings of shan and guilt, etc. Despair: A complete loss of hope; misery; difficult or unable to be helped or comforted. Discouragement: Feeling a lack of courage, hope or confidence; disheartened, dispirited. Losing the nerve to try or attempt something. disquet Disgust: A feeling of loathing; when good taste or moral sense is offended; a strong aversion. (e.g. She felt disgusted when the killer was acquitted). Dread: Fear of something that is about to happen; apprehension as to something in the future, usually real but sometimes unknown. (e.g. He dreaded going to high school reunio	blaming	Blaming: Being Blamed is to be held responsible; accused; or held guilty for something. Blaming another is to hold responsible; accuse; find fault with. Putting responsibility on someone or something else to avoid taking responsibility. This is a key emotion in creating a victim mentality and can cause a deterioration of personal power. Blaming the self is finding fault with oneself, which can lead to feelings of self-abuse, depression, etc.
creative insecurity Creative Insecurity: Feeling unsafe or untrusting the self about the creation or development of anything- relationships, family, health, money, career and/or and endeavors. A feeling of insecurity that arrises and blocks the creative process. (e.g., writer's block). Crying: The (often) involuntary act of expressing a strong emotion; a response to pain or suffering (emotional or physical). A response to or expression of helplessness. A physical sensation felt in the throat, chest and/or diaphragm. Often becomes trapped when one does not allow him/herself to cry (i.e. suppres this reaction or stuffing it down). Defensiveness: A state of resisting attack or protecting oneself; being sensitive to the threat of criticism or injury to one's ego; being on guard against real or imagined threats to one's person, physical and/or emotional. depression Depression: A state of being sad, gloomy, low in spirits, dejected. Often a secondary emotion caused by "anger turned inward" at the self and feelings of shan and guilt, etc. Despair: A complete loss of hope; misery; difficult or unable to be helped or comforted. Discouragement: Feeling a lack of courage, hope or confidence; disheartened, dispirited. Losing the nerve to try or attempt something. discouragement Discouragement: Feeling of loathing; when good taste or moral sense is offended; a strong aversion. (e.g. She felt disgusted when the killer was acquitted). Dread: Fear of something that is about to happen; apprehension as to something in the future, usually real but sometimes unknown. (e.g. He dreaded going to high school reunion and facing the bullies who had tormented him). Effort Unreceived: When one's work, achievement, attempts or endeavors are not accepted or recognized; when one's best effort is not considered good eno a feeling of being unappreciated. Not feeling approved of or validated. Failure: When one falls short of success or achievement in something expected, attempted, or desired; (e.g. The failure of a marriage or other	conflict	whether or not to take the new job) External Conflict is to fight; to disagree or be disagreeable; to struggle or battle against; to antagonize. Prolonged strife or endeavors. A feeling of insecurity that arises and blocks the creative process. (e.g., writer's block). Crying: The (often) involuntary act of expressing a strong emotion; a response to pain or suffering (emotional or physical). A response to or expression of helplessness. A physical sensation felt in the throat, chest and/or diaphragm. Often becomes trapped when one does not allow him/herself to cry (i.e. suppression stuffing it down). Defensiveness: A state of resisting attack or protecting oneself; being sensitive to the threat of criticism or injury to one's ego; being on guard against real or imagined threats to one's person, physical and/or emotional. Depression: A state of being sad, gloomy, low in spirits, dejected. Often a secondary emotion caused by "anger turned inward" at the self and feelings of shan and guilt, etc. Despair: A complete loss of hope; misery; difficult or unable to be helped or comforted. Discouragement: Feeling a lack of courage, hope or confidence; disheartened, dispirited. Losing the nerve to try or attempt something. Disgust: A feeling of loathing; when good taste or moral sense is offended; a strong aversion. (e.g. She felt disgusted when the killer was acquitted). Dread: Fear of something that is about to happen; apprehension as to something in the future, usually real but sometimes unknown. (e.g. He dreaded going to a feeling of being unappreciated. Not feeling approved of or validated. Feliort Unreceived: When one's work, achievement, attempts or endeavors are not accepted or recognized; when one's best effort is not considered good eno a feeling of being unappreciated. Not feeling approved of or validated. Failure: When one falls short of success or achievement in something expected, attempted, or desired; (e.g. The failure of a marriage or other relationship, before a Fear; A strongly distressing emotion aroused by impending danger, evil or pain; the threat may be real or imagined. Fortorn: Miserable; sad and lonely by reason of abandonment, desolation or emptimess	confusion	Confusion: A disoriented feeling; foggy thinking; chaos; lack of distinctness or clearness; perplexity; bewilderment; a disturbed mental state.
helplessness. A physical sensation felt in the throat, chest and/or diaphragm. Often becomes trapped when one does not allow him/herself to cry (i.e. suppress this reaction or stuffing it down). defensiveness Defensiveness: A state of resisting attack or protecting oneself; being sensitive to the threat of criticism or injury to one's ego; being on guard against real or imagined threats to one's person, physical and/or emotional. Depression: A state of being sad, gloomy, low in spirits, dejected. Often a secondary emotion caused by "anger turned inward" at the self and feelings of shan and guilt, etc. Despair: A complete loss of hope; misery; difficult or unable to be helped or comforted. Discouragement: Feeling a lack of courage, hope or confidence; disheartened, dispirited. Losing the nerve to try or attempt something. Discouragement: Feeling a lack of courage, hope or confidence; disheartened, dispirited. Losing the nerve to try or attempt something. Disgust: A feeling of loathing; when good taste or moral sense is offended; a strong aversion. (e.g. She felt disgusted when the killer was acquitted). Dread: Fear of something that is about to happen; apprehension as to something in the future, usually real but sometimes unknown. (e.g. He dreaded going to high school reunion and facing the bullies who had tormented him). Effort Unreceived Effort Unreceived: When one's work, achievement, attempts or endeavors are not accepted or recognized; when one's best effort is not considered good eno a feeling of being unappreciated. Not feeling approved of or validated. Failure: When one falls short of success or achievement in something expected, attempted, or desired; (e.g. The failure of a marriage or other relationship, befired, bankruptcy, performing poorly in athletics, art, academics, etc.). Fear: A strongly distressing emotion aroused by impending danger, evil or pain; the threat may be real or imagined. Frustration: Exasperation; being stuck or unable to progress; feeling blocked from causing a change	creative insecurity imagined threats to one's person, physical and/or emotional. Depression: A state of being sad, gloomy, low in spirits, dejected. Often a secondary emotion caused by "anger turned inward" at the self and feelings of shan and guilt, etc. Despair: A complete loss of hope; misery; difficult or unable to be helped or comforted. Discouragement: Feeling a lack of courage, hope or confidence; disheartened, dispirited. Losing the nerve to try or attempt something. Discouragement: Feeling a lack of courage, hope or confidence; disheartened, dispirited. Losing the nerve to try or attempt something. Disgust: A feeling of loathing; when good taste or moral sense is offended; a strong aversion. (e.g. She felt disgusted when the killer was acquitted). Dread: Fear of something that is about to happen; apprehension as to something in the future, usually real but sometimes unknown. (e.g. He dreaded going to high school reunion and facing the bullies who had tormented him). Effort Unreceived: When one's work, achievement, attempts or endeavors are not accepted or recognized; when one's best effort is not considered good eno a feeling of being unappreciated. Not feeling approved of or validated. Failure: When one falls short of success or achievement in something expected, attempted, or desired; (e.g. The failure of a marriage or other relationship, be fired, bankruptcy, performing poorly in athletics, art, academics, etc.). fear Fear: A strongly distressing emotion aroused by impending danger, evil or pain; the threat may be real or imagined. Forlorn: Miserable; sad and lonely by reason of abandonment, desolation or emptiness; hopeless; forsaken. Frustration Frustration: Exasperation; being stuck or unable to progress; feeling blocked from causing a change or achieving an objective or goal. Grief: Intense emotional suffering caused by loss, disaster, misfortune, etc.; an acute sorrow and deep sadness. A universal reaction to bereavement. Also cateling harassed, vexed or exasperated (e.g. if someone gives you grief). G	crying	helplessness. A physical sensation felt in the throat, chest and/or diaphragm. Often becomes trapped when one does not allow him/herself to cry (i.e. suppressing despair Despair: A complete loss of hope; misery; difficult or unable to be helped or comforted. Discouragement: Feeling a lack of courage, hope or confidence; disheartened, dispirited. Losing the nerve to try or attempt something. Discouragement: Feeling a lack of courage, hope or confidence; disheartened, dispirited. Losing the nerve to try or attempt something. Disgust: A feeling of loathing; when good taste or moral sense is offended; a strong aversion. (e.g. She felt disgusted when the killer was acquitted). Dread: Fear of something that is about to happen; apprehension as to something in the future, usually real but sometimes unknown. (e.g. He dreaded going to high school reunion and facing the bullies who had tormented him). Effort Unreceived: When one's work, achievement, attempts or endeavors are not accepted or recognized; when one's best effort is not considered good end a feeling of being unappreciated. Not feeling approved of or validated. Failure: When one falls short of success or achievement in something expected, attempted, or desired; (e.g. The failure of a marriage or other relationship, be fired, bankruptcy, performing poorly in athletics, art, academics, etc.). Fear: A strongly distressing emotion aroused by impending danger, evil or pain; the threat may be real or imagined. Forlorn: Miserable; sad and lonely by reason of abandonment, desolation or emptiness; hopeless; forsaken. Frustration: Exasperation; being stuck or unable to progress; feeling blocked from causing a change or achieving an objective or goal. Grief: Intense emotional suffering caused by loss, disaster, misfortune, etc.; an acute sorrow and deep sadness. A universal reaction to bereavement. Also cateling harassed, vexed or exasperated (e.g. if someone gives you grief). Guilt: The feeling of having done wrong or committed an offense. Feeling responsible for the harmful actions of another (e.g., abuse, parents' divorce, death, often accompanied by feelings of depression, shame and self-abuse. disheartened, dispirited. Losing the nerve to try or attempt something. discouragement Discouragement: Feeling a lack of courage, hope or confidence; disheartened, dispirited. Losing the nerve to try or attempt something. Disgust: A feeling of loathing; when good taste or moral sense is offended; a strong aversion. (e.g. She felt disgusted when the killer was acquitted). Dread: Fear of something that is about to happen; apprehension as to something in the future, usually real but sometimes unknown. (e.g. He dreaded going to high school reunion and facing the bullies who had tormented him). Effort unreceived Effort Unreceived: When one's work, achievement, attempts or endeavors are not accepted or recognized; when one's best effort is not considered good eno a feeling of being unappreciated. Not feeling approved of or validated. Failure: When one falls short of success or achievement in something expected, attempted, or desired; (e.g. The failure of a marriage or other relationship, be fired, bankruptcy, performing poorly in athletics, art, academics, etc.). fear Fear: A strongly distressing emotion aroused by impending danger, evil or pain; the threat may be real or imagined. forlorn Forlorn: Miserable; sad and lonely by reason of abandonment, desolation or emptiness; hopeless; forsaken. Frustration: Exasperation; being stuck or unable to progress; feeling blocked from causing a change or achieving an objective or goal. Grief: Intense emotional suffering caused by loss, disaster, misfortune, etc.; an acute sorrow and deep sadness. A universal reaction to bereavement. Also cateling harassed, vexed or exasperated (e.g. if someone gives you grief). Guilt: The feeling of having done wrong or committed an offense. Feeling responsible for the harmful actions of another (e.g., abuse, parents' divorce, death, often accompanied by feelings of depression, shame and self-abuse.	depression	Depression: A state of being sad, gloomy, low in spirits, dejected. Often a secondary emotion caused by "anger turned inward" at the self and feelings of shame and guilt, etc.
Disgust: A feeling of loathing; when good taste or moral sense is offended; a strong aversion. (e.g. She felt disgusted when the killer was acquitted). Dread: Fear of something that is about to happen; apprehension as to something in the future, usually real but sometimes unknown. (e.g. He dreaded going to high school reunion and facing the bullies who had tormented him). Effort unreceived Effort Unreceived: When one's work, achievement, attempts or endeavors are not accepted or recognized; when one's best effort is not considered good end a feeling of being unappreciated. Not feeling approved of or validated. Failure: When one falls short of success or achievement in something expected, attempted, or desired; (e.g. The failure of a marriage or other relationship, be fired, bankruptcy, performing poorly in athletics, art, academics, etc.). fear Fear: A strongly distressing emotion aroused by impending danger, evil or pain; the threat may be real or imagined. forlorn Forlorn: Miserable; sad and lonely by reason of abandonment, desolation or emptiness; hopeless; forsaken. Frustration: Exasperation; being stuck or unable to progress; feeling blocked from causing a change or achieving an objective or goal. Grief: Intense emotional suffering caused by loss, disaster, misfortune, etc.; an acute sorrow and deep sadness. A universal reaction to bereavement. Also catefing harassed, vexed or exasperated (e.g. if someone gives you grief). Guilt: The feeling of having done wrong or committed an offense. Feeling responsible for the harmful actions of another (e.g., abuse, parents' divorce, death, often accompanied by feelings of depression, shame and self-abuse.	despair Dread: Fear of something that is about to happen; apprehension as to something in the future, usually real but sometimes unknown. (e.g. He dreaded going to high school reunion and facing the bullies who had tormented him). Effort Unreceived: When one's work, achievement, attempts or endeavors are not accepted or recognized; when one's best effort is not considered good end a feeling of being unappreciated. Not feeling approved of or validated. Failure: When one falls short of success or achievement in something expected, attempted, or desired; (e.g. The failure of a marriage or other relationship, be fired, bankruptcy, performing poorly in athletics, art, academics, etc.). Fear: A strongly distressing emotion aroused by impending danger, evil or pain; the threat may be real or imagined. Forlorn: Miserable; sad and lonely by reason of abandonment, desolation or emptiness; hopeless; forsaken. Frustration: Exasperation; being stuck or unable to progress; feeling blocked from causing a change or achieving an objective or goal. Grief: Intense emotional suffering caused by loss, disaster, misfortune, etc.; an acute sorrow and deep sadness. A universal reaction to bereavement. Also catefining harassed, vexed or exasperated (e.g. if someone gives you grief). Guilt: The feeling of having done wrong or committed an offense. Feeling responsible for the harmful actions of another (e.g., abuse, parents' divorce, death, of the naccompanied by feelings of depression, shame and self-abuse.	discouragement	Discouragement: Feeling a lack of courage, hope or confidence; disheartened, dispirited. Losing the nerve to try or attempt something.
high school reunion and facing the bullies who had tormented him). Effort unreceived Effort Unreceived: When one's work, achievement, attempts or endeavors are not accepted or recognized; when one's best effort is not considered good end a feeling of being unappreciated. Not feeling approved of or validated. Failure: When one falls short of success or achievement in something expected, attempted, or desired; (e.g. The failure of a marriage or other relationship, be fired, bankruptcy, performing poorly in athletics, art, academics, etc.). fear Fear: A strongly distressing emotion aroused by impending danger, evil or pain; the threat may be real or imagined. forlorn Forlorn: Miserable; sad and lonely by reason of abandonment, desolation or emptiness; hopeless; forsaken. frustration Frustration: Exasperation; being stuck or unable to progress; feeling blocked from causing a change or achieving an objective or goal. Grief: Intense emotional suffering caused by loss, disaster, misfortune, etc.; an acute sorrow and deep sadness. A universal reaction to bereavement. Also catefieling harassed, vexed or exasperated (e.g. if someone gives you grief). Guilt: The feeling of having done wrong or committed an offense. Feeling responsible for the harmful actions of another (e.g., abuse, parents' divorce, death, often accompanied by feelings of depression, shame and self-abuse.	disgust	Disgust: A feeling of loathing; when good taste or moral sense is offended; a strong aversion. (e.g. She felt disgusted when the killer was acquitted).
a feeling of being unappreciated. Not feeling approved of or validated. failure Failure: When one falls short of success or achievement in something expected, attempted, or desired; (e.g. The failure of a marriage or other relationship, be fired, bankruptcy, performing poorly in athletics, art, academics, etc.). fear Fear: A strongly distressing emotion aroused by impending danger, evil or pain; the threat may be real or imagined. Forlorn: Miserable; sad and lonely by reason of abandonment, desolation or emptiness; hopeless; forsaken. Frustration: Exasperation; being stuck or unable to progress; feeling blocked from causing a change or achieving an objective or goal. Grief: Intense emotional suffering caused by loss, disaster, misfortune, etc.; an acute sorrow and deep sadness. A universal reaction to bereavement. Also cate feeling harassed, vexed or exasperated (e.g. if someone gives you grief). Guilt: The feeling of having done wrong or committed an offense. Feeling responsible for the harmful actions of another (e.g., abuse, parents' divorce, death, often accompanied by feelings of depression, shame and self-abuse.		Dread: Fear of something that is about to happen; apprehension as to something in the future, usually real but sometimes unknown. (e.g. He dreaded going to the high school reunion and facing the bullies who had tormented him).
fired, bankruptcy, performing poorly in athletics, art, academics, etc.). fear Fear: A strongly distressing emotion aroused by impending danger, evil or pain; the threat may be real or imagined. forlorn Forlorn: Miserable; sad and lonely by reason of abandonment, desolation or emptiness; hopeless; forsaken. frustration Frustration: Exasperation; being stuck or unable to progress; feeling blocked from causing a change or achieving an objective or goal. Grief: Intense emotional suffering caused by loss, disaster, misfortune, etc.; an acute sorrow and deep sadness. A universal reaction to bereavement. Also ca feeling harassed, vexed or exasperated (e.g. if someone gives you grief). Guilt: The feeling of having done wrong or committed an offense. Feeling responsible for the harmful actions of another (e.g., abuse, parents' divorce, death, offen accompanied by feelings of depression, shame and self-abuse.		Effort Unreceived: When one's work, achievement, attempts or endeavors are not accepted or recognized; when one's best effort is not considered good enough; a feeling of being unappreciated. Not feeling approved of or validated.
forlorn Forlorn: Miserable; sad and lonely by reason of abandonment, desolation or emptiness; hopeless; forsaken. frustration Frustration: Exasperation; being stuck or unable to progress; feeling blocked from causing a change or achieving an objective or goal. Grief: Intense emotional suffering caused by loss, disaster, misfortune, etc.; an acute sorrow and deep sadness. A universal reaction to bereavement. Also ca feeling harassed, vexed or exasperated (e.g. if someone gives you grief). Guilt: The feeling of having done wrong or committed an offense. Feeling responsible for the harmful actions of another (e.g., abuse, parents' divorce, death, Often accompanied by feelings of depression, shame and self-abuse.		Failure: When one falls short of success or achievement in something expected, attempted, or desired; (e.g. The failure of a marriage or other relationship, being fired, bankruptcy, performing poorly in athletics, art, academics, etc.). frustration Frustration: Exasperation; being stuck or unable to progress; feeling blocked from causing a change or achieving an objective or goal. Grief: Intense emotional suffering caused by loss, disaster, misfortune, etc.; an acute sorrow and deep sadness. A universal reaction to bereavement. Also cate feeling harassed, vexed or exasperated (e.g. if someone gives you grief). Guilt: The feeling of having done wrong or committed an offense. Feeling responsible for the harmful actions of another (e.g., abuse, parents' divorce, death, Often accompanied by feelings of depression, shame and self-abuse.
Grief: Intense emotional suffering caused by loss, disaster, misfortune, etc.; an acute sorrow and deep sadness. A universal reaction to bereavement. Also ca feeling harassed, vexed or exasperated (e.g. if someone gives you grief). Guilt: The feeling of having done wrong or committed an offense. Feeling responsible for the harmful actions of another (e.g., abuse, parents' divorce, death, Often accompanied by feelings of depression, shame and self-abuse. feeling harassed, vexed or exasperated (e.g. if someone gives you grief). Guilt: The feeling of having done wrong or committed an offense. Feeling responsible for the harmful actions of another (e.g., abuse, parents' divorce, death, Often accompanied by feelings of depression, shame and self-abuse.
Often accompanied by feelings of depression, shame and self-abuse.		feeling harassed, vexed or exasperated (e.g. if someone gives you grief).
		Often accompanied by feelings of depression, shame and self-abuse.
hatred Hatred: To loathe; despise; great dislike or aversion. Often comes as a result of "hurt love". Often hatred is of a situation rather than a person (e.g. hatred of another's behavior, unjust circumstances, etc.) Self-hatred creates destructive behaviors and illnesses.	natred	another's behavior, unjust circumstances, etc.) Self-hatred creates destructive behaviors and illnesses.
heartache Heartache: Anguish and pain of the heart; distress usually as a result of difficulty or sadness in a relationship. Felt as a crushing or burning physical sensation the chest.	nearrache	Heartache: Anguish and pain of the heart; distress usually as a result of difficulty or sadness in a relationship. Felt as a crushing or burning physical sensation in the chest.
helplessness: Being unable to help oneself; being without the aid or protection of another. Having little strength or personal power. A common emotion for the suffering from a "victim mentality". Feeling unable to change one's circumstances or state.		Helplessness: Being unable to help oneself; being without the aid or protection of another. Having little strength or personal power. A common emotion for those suffering from a "victim mentality". Feeling unable to change one's circumstances or state.
hopelessness Hopelessness: Devoid of hope; having no expectation of good; having no remedy or cure; no prospect of change or improvement.	hopelessness	Hopelessness: Devoid of hope; having no expectation of good; having no remedy or cure; no prospect of change or improvement.
horror Horror: A strong emotion of alarm, disgust, or outrage caused by something frightful or shocking (e.g. an event of extreme violence, cruelty, or macabre.)	horror	Horror: A strong emotion of alarm, disgust, or outrage caused by something frightful or shocking (e.g. an event of extreme violence, cruelty, or macabre.)
humiliation Humiliation: A painful loss of pride, dignity or self-respect; to feel mortified; embarrassed.	humiliation	Humiliation: A painful loss of pride, dignity or self-respect; to feel mortified; embarrassed.

indecisiveness	Indecisiveness: An inability to make a decision; wavering back and forth between one choice or another. Stems from distrust of the self or doubting the ability to make a good decision.
insecurity	Insecurity: A lack of confidence; self-conscious; shy. Feeling unsafe from danger or ridicule.
jealousy	Jealousy: Resentful and envious of someone's success, achievements, or advantages. Having suspicious fears; fears of rivalry or unfaithfulness. Results from a fear of not being loved and/or from insecurity.
lack of control	Lack of Control: Lacking restraint or direction; unable to regulate or command; a feeling that someone or something else determines your course.
longing	Longing: To have a strong desire or craving; a yearning or pining; aching for; to miss someone or something; to want something you do not have (e.g. She longed for a different life).
lost	Lost: Unable to see the correct or acceptable course; having no direction. Physically lost most often shows up from childhood- (e.g. being lost in the woods and can't find the way home, etc.) Emotionally lost refers to a feeling of being unable to see what the right decision or direction, being unable to find emotional stability (e.g. He felt lost after his wife died; She hasn't done anything with her life, she seems really lost.)
love unreceived	Love Unreceived: A feeling that love expressed is or has been rejected. Feeling unwanted, not cared for; not accepted; a lack of love where it is desired.
low self esteem	Low Self-Esteem: A low appraisal of one's own worth or value; feeling and focusing on one's flaws; holding a feeling of disrespect for the self; not confident; lack of self love.
lust	Lust: Intense sexual desire or appetite; an overwhelming want or craving (e.g., lust for power); passion; to covet.
nervousness	Nervousness: Unnaturally or acutely uneasy or apprehensive; fearful; timid; to feel jumpy or on edge.
overjoy	Overjoy: Intense delight or elation which is too overpowering for the body; joy that it is a shock to the system.
overwhelm	Overwhelm: To be overpowered in mind or emotion; extreme stress; feeling overpowered with superior force; feeling excessively burdened. Panic: A sudden, overwhelming fear that produces hysterical behavior, unreasonably fearful thoughts or physical symptoms such as trembling and hyperventilation; a strong feeling of impending doom.
panic	Panic: A sudden, overwhelming fear that produces hysterical behavior, unreasonably fearful thoughts or physical symptoms such as trembling and hyperventilation; a strong feeling of impending doom.
peeved	Peeved: Irritated; annoyed; exasperated; irked; aggravated; ticked off.
pride	Pride: An overly high esteeming of oneself for some real or imagined merit or superiority; vanity (an excessive desire to be noticed, praised, or approved); feeling better than others; haughty; non-teachable; has to be right; expects more credit than earned; or treats others with disdain or contempt. Having a healthy amount of pride (self-respect or self-esteem) is a good thing, and this type of pride usually doesn't show up as a trapped emotion (although it may show up if one's healthy pride is injured).
rejection	Rejection: Feeling denied, refused or rebuffed; discarded as useless or unimportant; 4 cast out; unwanted; forsaken.
resentment	Resentment: A feeling of displeasure or indignation at someone or something regarded as the cause of injury or insult; bitter for having been treated unfairly; unwilling to forgive. Often this emotion comes along with animosity (ill-will that displays itself in action, strong hostility or antagonism).
sadness	Sadness: Unhappy; sorrowful; mournful; affected by grief.
self abuse	Self-Abuse: Abusing the self emotionally includes negative self-talk (e.g. "I'm such an idiot."), blaming the self, etc. Abusing the self physically includes mistreating the body by use of addictive substances; to not care for the body by lack of sleep, proper diet or nutrition; to work beyond what one can or should endure; to punish or tax oneself excessively. This abuse may help atone for "sins", real or imagined, and usually is driven by anger. Illnesses can be forms of self-abuse (e.g., "I don't deserve to be healed.") shame	Shame: A feeling of being wrong, defective or disreputable. The painful feeling of having done or experienced something dishonorable, improper or foolish; disgrace; humiliation; a cause for regret. The lowest vibration of all the emotions. Leads to guilt, depression and even suicide.
shock	Shock: A sudden or violent disturbance of the emotions or sensibilities; extreme surprise; to feel traumatized or stunned.
sorrow	Sorrow: A sad regret; distress caused by loss, disappointment or grief; to feel or express grief, unhappiness, or sadness.
stubbornness	Stubbornness: Being difficult; unbendable; unable or unwilling to forgive; obstinate; headstrong; resistant.
taken for granted	Taken for Granted: Feels treated with careless indifference; not given thanks or for something accomplished, similar to ignored.
terror	Terror: Intense, sharp, overmastering fear; extreme fright; alarm.
unsupported	Unsupported: A lack of support, help or encouragement; not provided for by another; not defended when help is needed; feeling the burden is too heavy to bear alone, etc.
unworthy	Unworthy: Not good enough; beneath the dignity of; not commendable or credible; undeserving; not valuable or suitable; unbecoming.
vulnerability	Vulnerability: Feeling susceptible to harm, either emotional or physical; unstable.
wishywashy	Wishy Washy: Weak, spiritless; undecided irresolute; without strength of character. To lack conviction; without a backbone.
worry	Worry: Dwelling on difficulty or troubles; unease or anxiety about a situation or a person; extreme concern over potential problems; concern about a loved one in possible distress.
worthlessness	Worthless: Of no importance or value; without excellence of character, quality or esteem; serving no purpose
	The state of the s