Nugent Jewelry, is proud to announce its corporate sponsorship of this year's TedX Breckenridge, Saturday, September 30, 1-5 pm. The wholesale jewelry company with focus on authenticity and mindfulness is Northern NH based; however, has 17-retail locations in the Denver area.

Marc Nugent, CEO said, "We feel very aligned with TedXBreckenridge, because Nugent Jewelry is impassioned with providing the highest possible quality products and education to empower our retailers and build meaningful relationships. This, is similar to the outcomes of TedXBreckenridge – incorporating inspiration and various cultural influences in celebrating unique and individualized approaches to thought and action."

Nugent Jewelry is meticulously crafted -- prioritizing genuine materials, ethical practices, and transparent communication. A small-town "mom and pop shop itself," Nugent Jewelry is a silver-lining concept that started around a kitchen table. Built with the intention of helping their clients, "put bread on the table." The first green-jewelry manufacturing facility in Jaipur, India, Nugent Jewelry takes a responsible approach to "going beyond beautiful – to inspiring."

With their own proprietary blend of USA recycled sterling silver & 18K gold vermeil, certified gemstones, ethically sourced and mined, sustainably created pieces incorporate artfully inspired simplicity – each piece empowered with uplifting sentiments and intentions symbolizing inner strength, resilience, and empowerment.

Nugent can be found locally in the Denver area at the following shops: For Heaven's Sake, Full Moon Books & Event Center, Elevated Metaphysical, Isis Books & Gifts, The Silver Horse, Insightful Inspirations, Marie Starling, Imperial Sky Crystals, Evergreen Crafters, Flip Flop Bead Shop, Crystal Dragon, Marmalade Jewelry, Umba, The Gypsum Rose, and Crystal Joys.

Nugent's corporate sponsorship is through the volunteer Speaker Coach services of their Strategic Director of Marketing Communications, Catherine Krueger Sullivan. Catherine has been strategically supporting communications initiatives for companies and individuals for 25-years. She is most well-known for the passion and "heart" she puts into her work supporting others' in achieving their missions and messages. Krueger Sullivan said, "I'm humbled and grateful to be a part of two organizations integrally innovating intentional inspiration."

TedX Breckenridge tickets and sponsorship opportunities are still available for this Saturday, Sept 30, 1-5 pm at the Riverwalk Center in Breck at 150 W Adams Ave.
