Loren Lahav epitomizes the essence of an international thought leader, producer, mom, wife, author, entrepreneur, and philanthropist, boasting over three decades of enriching experience alongside the world's most impressive world leaders, thought pioneers, and passionate truth seekers. With a track record as the "go-to" for results, Loren has addressed live audiences numbering in the hundreds of thousands and recently captivated a staggering 160,000 individuals on Zoom. Her illustrious career spans over three decades, during which she has trained leaders and consulted corporations worldwide, including Fortune 500 companies in every industry on every topic to include leadership, sales, communication, team-building, and company culture.

Having shared the stage with renowned luminaries like Barbara Walters, Tony Robbins, Gary Vaynerchuk, Bob Proctor, and Wayne Dyer, among others, Loren's journey began with her pivotal role at the Tony Robbins Company, now Robbins Research International (RRI), in 1990. Here, she has played a crucial role in numerous groundbreaking programs led by Tony Robbins over the last 35-years. She is well-known for her role facilitating immersive 5-day "Life Mastery Programs" onsite in Fiji. Now, she not only facilitates these programs in Fiji, but also virtually. She collaborates on facilitating Wealth Mastery Virtual and Life Mastery Virtual annually for thousands of participants around the globe. She was the creator of RRI's volunteer Crew Program which she lead for two decades.

As an entrepreneur herself, driven by her fervent passion to empower women worldwide, Loren has spearheaded transformative initiatives and coached thousands of women through various programs, events, and retreats, such as Lobella, Own Your Own Worth, TRUE Voice Intensive and True Legacy Collective. As an author, Loren has penned five impactful books, including "No Greater Love" and "Chicken Soup for the Soul: Time to Thrive," while her creation of life-changing products like the "I Am" cards has garnered global acclaim. Her sixth book "Stay True" is to be published Fall 2024.

In addition to her professional endeavors, Loren is a dynamic real estate investor and philanthropist with a deep commitment to service. From her early memories of community service in Ashland, NC, to her leadership roles on the Board of St Jude's Hospital and her creation of Elevate and The SPIN Campaign, Loren's impact has been profound. She has spearheaded initiatives like donating Thanksgiving baskets and school supply packs to Las Vegas residents in need and sponsoring projects like fitting 5000 people with hearing aids in Vietnam. Her non-profit Celebrate! monthly brings birthday parties to Title-1 elementary school children who would not otherwise be able to have one.

Meet Meeka Coach

Meeka's journey is an inspiring tale of strength and self-discovery that touches the hearts of many. Her most transformative moment occurred after appearing on Tony Robbins' Podcast, which led her to make the courageous decision to remove her breast implants, which had been a part of her identity for 25 years and embrace her natural beauty, scars and all. Meeka left home at 17 to travel the globe as a model. She walked runways, posed for calendars and even modeled on the Price is Right. Meeka also found as a professional singer as far away as Boca Raton and still collects royalties from her music and time spent as an actress.

With her joyful, nurturing spirit, Meeka gently guides individuals through their own identity crises, often ignited by significant life changes such as divorce, aging, job loss, and societal pressures. Her personal path, marked by a challenging early life, including the demands of her modeling and acting career, has served as the catalyst for her growth into an experienced and compassionate mentor.
