

WeCareWeClean, LLC: Getting Your “ME” Time Back

By Niamh Grano

How often do you say, “I would have so much more time in my day, if only I didn’t have to clean the house?” Or do you avoid having people over because the task of getting the house ready is too overwhelming? If you’re nodding your head yes then read on!

Having graduated as an accountant from Brazil and a nurse from the US, WeCareWeClean owner, Katia Santos, was raised to understand how a clean home is a reflection of who you are, but that it is also important to help maintain your mental and physical health. “My mother always said, ‘messy house, messy life,’” said Katia. “And I strongly believe that. A clean and organized home gives you an atmosphere of peace and tranquility. It also establishes a sense of structure and order.”

Katia always had a passion for cleaning. “It started when I was younger,” she said. My mother would have my sister and I clean the tile ceiling of our home in Brazil once a year. We would wash them all by hand and then have to put them all back. I can say, a lot I learned about cleaning I learned from my mother.”

That is why she formed WeCareWeClean, to provide a clean environment for their customers so they can have a sense of well-being and reduce the anxiety of having to tend to their home by themselves. “When you are worried about having to clean or straighten up the house your mind is always thinking about what you need to do next, it never has an opportunity to rest,” said Katia. “It is also our goal to give customers more quality time with their families.”

WeCareWeClean is a fully insured, non-franchised cleaning service serving residential and commercial properties at affordable prices. They also make their own, all natural cleaning products. From recurring to seasonal cleaning to before or after party clean-up the company’s goal is to meet their customers’ expectations by using their 12 years of experience to complete their jobs to perfection. “Customer service, satisfaction and honesty are the most important aspects of our business,” said Katia. “We are not your standard cleaning service.”

WeCareWeClean offers customers a stress free environment; the employees are not overloaded with jobs so they can give all their attention to every home they are tending too. Each employee is personally trained by Katia to ensure every client receives the best service possible. She also ensures they go above and beyond to protect furniture and other personal belongings within the home.

Hard work, Commitment, Professionalism & Dedication

Katia loves the sense of community Sparta provides and also how mothers are always supporting other mothers. That is why, when looking for employees for WeCareWeClean, she tends to look for mothers, not only to help support them and their families, but also because they can truly understand the struggle between managing a family, home, and at times a career. And at the end of the day, they can pride themselves in knowing they are helping support other women in the community as well.
