

≡ ABOUT ME

Hello! I am Abigail Wiinamaki, I also go by Abby. I am currently a student at College for Creative Studies in Detroit, MI. I am in my Junior year and on track to graduate in May 2025. I went to Oakland Community College for two years before I transferred to CCS where I studied residential Interior Design. I have always loved to create art and have been designing, drawing, and creating for as long as I can remember. I love to create designs that make the user smile and feel in touch with their inner child.
