Trauma Trainer

As a seasoned Licensed Clinical Social Worker (LCSW) who has provided services to individuals, families and groups across all populations and as an experienced public speaker who specializes in the effects of trauma, I have the knowledge, credentialing and experience to deliver information about this important topic. Many marginalized people have been disproportionately exposed to traumatic events of many types, including interpersonal, environmental, intergenerational and social/ethnic/racial trauma.

I am skilled at facilitating small group discussions with a psycho-educational component ranging from what trauma is, the mind/body connection and after effects/symptoms as well as larger format trainings which are more lecture style with questions and answer components. I can provide handouts and additional reading resources lists. I have deep experience with the effects of domestic violence on both adults and children due to some of my employment settings. I can tailor a presentation to the purpose of the meeting, the likely attendees and the expected participant number.

Fee: 50. – 100./hour with a sliding scale available based on the organizational need.

Some pre-event time may be included in fee and all would be discussed in advance with both parties agreeing to terms
