Unique... Grover's "The Inn Of The Patriots"

As Cleveland County grows, it's always good to welcome not only something that is unique and a new business, but a venture that clings to our past. The nostalgia of the new Inn of the Patriots Bed and Breakfast in Grover does just that. It embraces our heritage and proudly displays a panarama of history.

This is the ongoing endeavor of a retired 21 year U.S. Navy veteran, Senior Chief Martin C. J. Mongiello. He displayed his culinary talents for many United States Presidents at Camp David. Now his talents are available for his guests at his Inn of the Patriots in Grover. He has served on three continents and been featured on The Today Show, ABC Television and CNN. He has received numerous awards and acknowledged as one of the best chefs in the world

The Inn is very close to I-85 as well as to Kings Mountain, on Cleveland Avenue in Grover. Once named Whitaker, N.C. the name was changed to Grover in honor of President Grover Cleveland. The present Inn was built in 1879 by Alfred Hambricht. It shares a very interesting history. It housed Renn's Cafeteria for a long time and it was where the movie "Hooch" was filmed, which included the red bedroom painted by Cathy Hunt who lived there. Cathy is now most noted by her employment at First National Bank in Shelby.

On April 6, 2008 Stormy LeAnn Neal married Martin C. J. Mongiello at 301 Cleveland Avenue in Grover. Yes, that's the address of The Inn Of The Patriots, a beautiful addition, rich in tradition, in Cleveland County. Of course, it's definitely one of a kind.
