To whom it may concern,

Thanks to a mutual friend, we met Adaloji Limited.

We needed a route program that would analyze data on Excel and make our requests easier.

Mr Ali Osman came to our company for a few weeks and examined our delivery operation and the programs we used. He created a proactive excell analysis file that is easy to use, that we can develop at any time and that does not allow us to make mistakes.

We have received support from him for sales reports, personnel and product sales performances as well. Adaloji Limited is a successful company that performs proactive and reliable analysis by using Excel.

If you would like have more information, you can contact me from my contact information below.
