

Privacy Policy and Data Usage

We collect and use your personal information to send you newsletters, marketing materials, and text messages about our products, services, and promotions.

Information We Collect:

- Email address
- First and last name
- Phone number (for text messages)
- Mailing address

How We Use This Information:

We use this information to:

- Send you our email newsletter
- Provide marketing materials on volunteering and fundraising
- Send promotional text messages

Consent:

We obtain your consent to send these communications in the following ways:

- Opt-in checkbox when signing up for an account
- Separate opt-in for text messages
- Double opt-in email confirmation for newsletter subscriptions

You may withdraw your consent at any time by unsubscribing or contacting us.

Your Rights:

- You can unsubscribe from email communications in newsletter.
- You can reply STOP to any text message to opt-out
- You may contact us to update your preferences or request deletion of your data

Data Security:

We use industry-standard security measures to protect your personal information. We do not share your data or personal information with anyone.

Third-Party Sharing:

We use third-party email and text messaging services (GoDaddy, Textedly, etc.) to send our communications. These services can access your contact information solely to send messages on our behalf.

If you have any questions or concerns, please get in touch with andy@michelleslove.org.