

Your Medicare plan is set... but is your family protected from final expenses?

Final expense coverage
can give your loved ones peace of mind — and costs less than you think.

Dear First Name,

First, I want to thank you for trusting me to help you with your Medicare plan. My commitment has always been to help you protect your health and your finances.

That's why I'm reaching out to share something just as important: Final Expense coverage – an affordable life insurance plan designed to cover costs such as funeral services, medical bills, or any outstanding expenses.

With Final Expense coverage:

- Affordable monthly rates that never increase
- Coverage for life – no matter your health changes
- Peace of mind knowing your loved ones won't face unexpected costs

Because we already work together, I can make this process simple – usually with a quick phone call and no medical exam.

I look forward to helping you protect what matters most.

Warm regards,
