

Keeping Clean

Characters: Bob Hunter

Christine Hunter

In the kitchen

Bob

Do you need a hand pet?

Christine

No you relax. Just washing my hands. Are your's clean?

Bob

Yes pet. Did half an hour ago and have not moved from the sofa since.

Christine

I'm just unpacking the groceries. Rinsing them all down.

Bob

How was it in the supermarket?

Christine

Busy. A few with no masks. Oh and I saw Pat.

Bob

How is she?

Christine

Oh I didn't stand long. I kept my distance. Just nodded. Bob remove your clothes. Let's put both our outfits on a 60 degree wash.

Bob

They were only clean on today anyway.

Christine

Bob in the washer now. Right now. Then you rinse your face. I'm just washing my hands again now. The taps are fine I have just wiped them with a disinfectant wipe.

Bob

My hands are dry. Can I use your hand cream

Christine

Yes it's in there. I can wipe the nozzle after.

Bob

I m going to have a can of lager to relax.

Christine

That's fine. I wiped them before I put them in the fridge. Hang on come and put some rubber gloves on we have had some post.

Bob

Ok

Christine

Pick up the letters. There are only 3. Put them on the sideboard. Do not go near them for three days. Quarantine them. Then remove the gloves, bin them and wash your hands.

Bob

All done pet now I need to relax.

(Enjoys his can of lager in living room for twenty minutes).

Bob

(From halfway up the stairs)

Are you ok pet?

Christine

(Now laying on the bed)

(Coughs) Bob I feel very tired. (Coughs) I sprayed some perfume. I can't smell a thing.

(Cough) Oh Bob. How could it happen to me!
