Membership

Cyber security incidents do not respect geographical, time zone, or administrative boundaries in the global Internet. Resolution of any Cyber security incident generally involves many sites, which may be located in various places around the world. Each incident response and security team can assist their local constituency and coordinate the appropriate response with other teams to provide a global solution to the problem. These can be possible once we have the right platform and team interactions

GOCYBEX provides a forum for facilitating trusted interactions among incident response and security teams for all the members of GOCYBEX. Assistance for interactions is available on either a team to team basis or between Individuals (through introduction to teams) or by using the GOCYBEX infrastructure to share information among all members in a secured way.
